

3 Per Cent Sales Tax Bill Will be Offered by GOP

Plan Envisions $110 Million New Revenue for Biennium

MADISON (AP)—The Legislature's Republican leadership plans to introduce next week a three per cent general sales tax bill as an alternate to Gov. John W. Reynolds' proposal for heavier taxes on incomes, corporations and banks.

The Republican proposal apparently will be designed to take advantage of the growth factor in Wisconsin's present tax structure and will add about $110 million in new revenue for the coming biennium.

The plan calls for exemption on food and drugs from the three per cent sales levy.

"Our tax plan last session did not tax the necessities of life and we don't intend to tax them this time," said Assembly Speaker Robert Haase, R-Marinette.

Support Not Certain

A decision to champion a general sales tax again this session came only after a period of wavering on the part of the GOP. And rank and file support for the plan from the Republican Senate and Assembly majorities is by no means assured.

After Reynolds submitted his 1963-65 budget calling for expenditures of $683.3 million and a tax plan that would raise $187.1 million in new revenue, the GOP considered not proposing its own plan and campaigning against the Democratic chief executive's program.

Such strategy would have kept the Republicans clear of the sales tax label that was applied in the 1962 election.

Republicans are agreed that Reynolds' tax plan must die. And they are just as certain that the governor will kill their sales tax proposal should it clear both houses of the Legislature.

But the leadership has decided the GOP must offer a clear alternative to the Reynolds tax plan to show good faith in attempting to solve the state's fiscal problems.

A significant change is that Republicans this time apparently will not tax with the credit refund feature that would allow taxpayers to deduct from income taxes a fixed amount to offset amounts spent on sales taxes on food.

The defeat of Philip G. Kuehn by Reynolds indicated to many Republicans that the public did not understand or did not like

Daley Elected Third Time as Chicago's Mayor

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Richard J. Daley who would like to be known as the first new leader in the city, was elected to his third consecutive four year term. He defeated Republican Benjamin S. Adamowski (78,317 to 49,000)—a margin of 137,531 in Tuesday's mayoral election.

Cloudless skies and 82-degree temperature brought out 73.4 per cent of the city's 1,718,760 eligible voters, one of the biggest turnouts in 20 years.

Daley also holds one of the most powerful posts in Democratic politics—chairman of the Cook County Democratic Committee. He has been chairman since 1957.

The image of the new political leader is entirely different from that of the old boss, he said in a recent interview. "The old bosses were only interested in what was good for themselves. The new objective of leadership is what you can do for the people."

Former Outagamie County Dist. Atty. George Greich returned to politics with a win in the Appleton Third Ward, defeating Royal Hume (44-65) incumbent J. Joseph Cummings did not seek re-election.

Higher Debt Limit Backed By Voters; Beilfuss Elected

Has Large Margin in Court Race

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Circuit Judge Bruce Beilfuss, who has spent all but two years of his distinguished law career in public service, won election to Wisconsin's Supreme Court Tuesday by an overwhelming margin over Harry E. Larsen, Superior attorney.

Beilfuss Has 7,000 Vote Lead in Region

Circuit Judge Bruce F. Beilfuss of Neillville bested Atty. Henry F. Larsen of Superior by more than 7,000 votes in the Outagamie-Winnebago-Calumet-Waupaca county region. Beilfuss polled 24,454 votes to Larsen's 17,294 in carrying three counties.

However, in Waupaca County where there is a heavy Scandinavian concentration, Larsen was top vote getter by a 3,260 to 2,987 margin.

The county totals: Outagamie—Beilfuss 10,484; Larsen 5,732; Winnebago—Beilfuss 10,418; Larsen 7,216; Calumet—Beilfuss 2,051; Larsen 1,054; Waupaca—Larsen 3,260; Beilfuss 2,987.

Small Total Vote

In an election that brought out less than one fourth of the state's estimated 2 1/2 million eligible voters, Associated Press returns showed a turnout of 3,529 precincts reporting.

Beilfuss 394,146; Larsen 211,476.

DENPASAR, Bali (AP)—The smoke cloud pouring from Agung volcano has been increasing, Bali Information Director Anak Agung says, another eruption is feared in the next two or three days.

The cloud and the general situation of the volcano are very similar to the days before March 17, when only interested in what was good for themselves. The new objective of leadership is what you can do for the people.

Kennedy Expected To Name Board on Railroad Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected today to sidetrack for 60 days the threat of a nationwide railroad strike by naming a blue-ribbon emergency board to try to settle the dispute over cutting out thousands of jobs.

The signals indicating an onrush emergency in the long wrangle between the railroads and the men who man the trains flashed red Tuesday after these swift developments:

1 A federal judge in Chicago dissolved an injunction freeing the railroads to announce major power reductions they have been urging for four years.

2 The rail lines then served notice they would put the new work rules—designed to eliminate featherbedding—into effect Monday.

3 With the five operating unions already having warned they would call a strike if the rules were put into effect, the National (Railway) Mediation Service informed the White House that an emergency exists.

Forecast Says Colder Tonight

80-Degree Reading Tuesday Snaps Two Appleton Records

It was hot in Appleton Tuesday so not that a number of Fox Valley weather records were shattered by big margins.

The Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. Appleton's comprehensive server for the U.S. Weather bureau recorded a high of 80, breaking the record for the date and officially becoming the earliest day in the year to have an 80 reading.

However, the U.S. Weather Bureau Green Bay said a cold snap will set in tonight. The bureau predicted a low tonight of 29 and a high Thursday of 46. The forecast said a warming trend should begin setting in after Thursday afternoon.

The old record for April 2, 1952, was set in 1940 and tied in 1955 according to the power company. The previous record for the earliest day in the year to have an 80 reading was set April 17, 1958, when 83 was reached, the power company said.

The U.S. Weather Bureau Green Bay reported one day on record with an earlier 80-degree reading, 81.5 on March 29, 1940, the power company's official Appleton records start in 1927.

The weather bureau's July record was 84.

Proposals on Raising Pay Of Judges and Change in Redistricting Turned Down

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin voters spoke out as usual in unmistakable if not entirely explicable fashion Tuesday on three proposals to amend the State Constitution approving only one.

As they did in 1961, they rejected a measure that would have permitted the Legislature to increase the salaries of Supreme Court justices and judges of other state courts during their terms of office.

The vote on the 324 precincts was: Yes 206,169; No 312,336.

They approved raising the debt limit for local governments with particular benefits for burgeoning city school systems. The vote: Yes 278,611; No 219,112.

And they defeated soundly a

Rejection of the amendment may be counted as a victory for Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds, who termed it "only an effort for more delay."

Referendum Results For 4-County Area

Voters in the region comprising Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Waupaca counties approved the state trend — with some reluctance — on the state wide referendum questions.

Collectively, they voted 23,926 to 12,914 against the revision in judges' salaries. The individual county totals:

	Yes	No
Outagamie	4,111	8,419
Winnebago	5,518	9,643
Calumet	877	1,965
Waupaca	1,362	3,339

The debt limit question received 17,940 affirmative votes (and 16,229 negative ballots) in the region which went yes for the proposal by a slim 7,716 to 7,065.

Redistricting received 17,727 opposition votes in the region, while 11,111, up to 44,318 for or against. It is the only county in the region which went yes for the proposal by a slim 7,716 to 7,065.

	Yes	No
Outagamie	5,375	6,163
Winnebago	7,103	7,951
Calumet	1,047	1,138
Waupaca	1,916	2,973

Wisconsin voters approved the debt limit question but rejected the other.

proposal to grant the Legislature until its second session after the federal census to reapportion legislative districts. The vote: Yes 20,669; No 91,555.

Backed By Legislature

Whipping of the redistricting proposal by the electorate was the high surprise, since the measure had 170 bipartisan support in the Legislature—only five votes were cast against it on its trip through both houses.

Although there was substantial criticism, particularly from metropolitan Democratic strongholds, that the amendment would only excuse further stalling in granting big cities their due representation, legislative members of

SEC Tells of 'Grave Abuses' In Stock Sales

Some Shady Practices But Business as Whole Is Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission unfolded today a story of "grave abuses" which have prompted the sale of stock to unsuspecting investors, but said the securities business as a whole is free of over-all taint.

In the first installment of a report on the most extensive investigation of the stock market since the 1929 SEC Chairman James C. Callaghan told Congress, "Government and industry regulation and the efforts of the financial community must continue to be directed against practices which undermine the integrity of the securities markets and which can be harmful to the economic growth of this country and to the investors who furnish the funds for that growth."

The commission's report on the securities industry, which was published in a 160-page report on the commission's study of the securities industry—a study that actively focused on shady practices.

It contained proposals for legislation, new regulations and tighter controls by industry groups to drive out crooked or unqualified salesmen to purify the industry from tainters, to prevent the kind of manipulation that boosts new hot issues to outrageous prices, and to guarantee the public more solid information about companies floating stock.

SEC said not all recommendations of stiff investigations have been followed.

Moscow and Peking Move Cautiously Toward Showdown

MOSCOW (AP)—Cautious maneuvering toward a face-to-face showdown meeting between Premier Khrushchev and Premier Zhou Enlai and other Chinese party leaders.

There was no immediate reaction from Peking. A New China News Agency broadcast said only that the Soviet ambassador to Peking had delivered a letter from Khrushchev to Premier Zhou Enlai and other Chinese party leaders.

As an alternative, Khrushchev suggested that the Chinese Communist leader first send representatives for high level talks to clear the air over the deep Moscow Peking rift.

Premier Khrushchev declined an invitation to visit Red China and instead asked Mo Tz-tung to see him in Moscow.

Explorer 17 to Send Vital Data On Atmosphere

Placed Into Orbit From Delta Rocket; Transmits Signals

BY HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Explorer 17 satellite zipped around the globe today and within two days its sensitive instruments were expected to collect more information about the earth's atmosphere than all the knowledge gained through the century.

The 410-pound ball of instruments vaulted skyward Tuesday night atop a three-stage Delta rocket and settled into an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 130 to 670 miles high. The launching success was the 16th straight for the reliable Delta.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported good quality signals were being received from the flying laboratory as it circled the world every 96 minutes.

Monitors Ready

A number of ground stations were equipped to monitor the satellite. Officials said the vehicle would be commanded to send five minute bursts of information at carefully selected times during the anticipated 60 to 90 day useful lifetime. They planned to activate the sphere 10 to 20 times a day to obtain maximum knowledge of

Nation of Check-Grabbers

Influential Congressman Tells Why He Wants Foreign Aid Cuts

BY STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., said today he finally feels vindicated in his long battle against foreign aid—what he termed "a nation of check-grabbers."

Passman's new sense of vindication comes from the spurt of criticism that has buffeted foreign aid in recent weeks—the gloomy report on aid to Southeast Asia by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and three other senators the critical analysis of foreign aid by the special committee headed by Gen. Louis B. Clay, the incorporation of some Clay Committee criticisms into President Kennedy's foreign aid message to Congress Tuesday.

But, to Passman despite the feeling of vindication, these criticisms are words words words, while he is interested in words' cuts.

Kennedy, in his message, cut his original budget request for foreign aid from $4.1 billion down to $3.5 billion. But Passman says a $2.5 billion program would be ample. The final congressional figure likely will be a midway between the $4.5 billion and the $2.5 billion.

Uncontrolled Program

Passman believes his nine year battle against foreign aid has been misinterpreted by the press, radio, television and the State Department.

"I've been accused of trying to wipe out the whole program," he said. "That's not true. I have been trying to contain it. I have been trying to help the executive department manage a program that is uncontrolled and uncontrollable."

But in the next breath, Passman acknowledges that he actually is against the whole idea of foreign aid. While he sees his assigned role in Congress as the man who must prune and slice the program, he is interested in words' cuts.

Good Health Important In Creating Impression

BY GLADYS BLAIR

Many girls believe that making a favorable first impression when applying for a job has to do only with grooming and dress. They are puzzled to learn that they sometimes do not make a favorable first impression when they feel confident that they are well groomed and dressed.

A favorable first impression is much more than grooming and dress. It includes a general impression of good health and good leadership activities and a new health habits such as adequate outfit, back-track while you can rest. It also includes an impression of cleanliness, body posture and manners.

Obvious Factors These are subtleties seldom mentioned but immediately obvious to interviewers accustomed to talking with many girls. Tiredness is read in dull eyes, slow responses, and the way you carry yourself. Poor food habits show up skin, condition of your hair, nails and body frame.

No one can hide lack of good manners. You have either absorbed them so that they are habits, or you haven't.

If you have skipped over some of the lessons available, thinking that all you needed to get a job was a resume of your work and leadership activities and a new health habits such as adequate outfit, back-track while you can rest. It also includes an impression of cleanliness, body posture and manners.

Strength and Energy Companies want girls who have not only skill and enthusiasm for learning but also strength and energy enough to be present every work day.

They want girls who "fit in." Girls with about the same social graces as those they already have working for them.

Proper rest and diet are two of a girl's best friends for bright eyes and energy, and these plus basic good manners help make that first impression good.

June Wedding Planned by Engaged Pair

Child's Aggressiveness Not All Bad or Good

You may dream your child will be sweet and loving — never getting into fights or problems. But when your child bites or shows other aggressive behavior, ask — is it normal or what causes it?

Aggressiveness is not all bad, nor all good. It is hard to deal with but you need a certain amount of it to get along. Too much is not good.

Useful healthy aggression gives strength to your actions. It brings about initiative, enterprise and competition. Today's world needs people with ideas, able to speak up and stand up for their rights. People who fight against injustice are aggressive in a socially useful way.

Hostility is Undesirable Hostility is a form of aggression that is undesirable. Hostility shows itself in the "No! No!" stage. Some children seem to use "No," for everything and seem to say "You can't boss me." When children are destructive, when children have tantrums to try to get their own way, when children are jealous, when children hurt each other by hitting or using words and arguments, when children use bad language to show they are individual.

Hostility can take hold in the first years when a child is being civilized. During infancy, a child is completely absorbed in his own life and wants his own way. He wants his appetites and desires satisfied at once.

Gradually, you place restrictions on the child and he is changed into a socially conforming individual. He must give up the bottle and be toilet trained. He must not bite, throw things or take things that belong to others. Though the child doesn't want to give up or give in, he wants your love and approval. He may want to strike out when he feels angry. But he begins to accept restrictions to keep your love and do what you expect.

This early period determines, to a large extent, how a child will feel toward people throughout his life. If he feels the world is a friendly place, he will have friendly relations with others. On the other hand, if the world seems a dangerous place, he will tend to be suspicious and quick to attack and feel attacked.

Love vs. Insecurity If in babyhood, a child feels in secure and unloved, hostile feelings will come up every time he is denied something. If he feels loved, he will be willing to exchange brief pleasures of getting what he wants immediately for lasting pleasures of keeping his parents' approval.

Remember, all behavior has a cause. You need to hunt the reason for your child's actions. Children want to grow up and please adults in their lives if they feel the adults show love and respect for them. But they can't be pushed too much. They have a right to grow in their own way and not be compared constantly with brothers, sisters, other relatives or neighbor's children. It's hard to know how much to induce your child's baby ways and how much to urge him to take next steps. As a parent you may find it hard to be relaxed and lead your child gradually to more mature behavior. You may find it hard to be firm when firmness is necessary. To help your children toward healthy emotional growth encourage but don't push them.

UNDERSTANDABLE DELAY

Dear Louise: About ten months ago, a very prominent citizen died in his late 80s. I know his wife quite well, although we aren't intimate friends. She has been very frail for a couple of years, but at the time of the death, I wrote her a sympathy note. Feeling that she would be obligated to answer with a note, I sent her a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

wanted so much to include the phrase, "Please don't acknowledge my message." I didn't want to burden her, knowing her physical condition, and knowing that she would receive many hundreds of messages. Something told me to leave that sentence unsaid, so I didn't include it. I was actually distressed today when I received a lovely warm-hearted reply in the mail. She mentioned the great delay, hoping I had patience because she has been "rather out of commission," but now ever so much better." She said she would be pleased if I would stop by some day. Would I have been more considerate if I had asked her not to acknowledge or if I had not sent a note at all?

Louise Davis Answers:

Your note of sympathy was a natural compulsion and you can be sure that it warmed your friend's heart. I think that you were wise to eliminate the request to refrain from acknowledging. I'm sure that she would have answered anyway and that she knew you would understand the reason for the delay. Her note to you was as sincere as yours was to her and I hope you will follow through by making a call.

Letters From Public Deal Blow To Woman's Spelling Ability

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Twelve years ago I graduated from the University of Chicago. I made Phi Beta Kappa and received graduate fellowships at Columbia and the University of Michigan.

My husband was in medical school at the time and we needed a steady income more than we needed another degree in the family, so I went to work for a mail-order house.

To my surprise I found the work fascinating. I have continued to work, having taken time out for my two babies. And now, 12 years later I find myself unable to spell the simplest words—thanks to the public.

When one sees "grateful" spelled "greatful" several times a day it can be confusing. I will never know for certain if occasion has two c's and one s or is it one c and two s's?

The other evening I asked my husband to read a letter I had written and he was shocked at my spelling. When I explained that letters from the public had ruined me, he replied, "Impossible. You must have been a poor speller always." Ann, please tell him it can happen—Edith.

Dear Edith: Not only can it happen, it did happen—to me.

But what you lose in spelling you make up for in knowledge (eq) of human nature. It's worth (eq) it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter signed, "No Pulse," from the woman who had a jewel of a husband but wanted him to "keep his hands off," interested me. My first husband was extremely handsome and a great lover but a rotten husband. It wasn't worth it.

My present husband is wonderful. He's a great husband but a rotten lover. I am perfectly willing to accept his clumsiness and count my other blessings, but it's not as simple as that.

A man who has even a small degree of sensitivity knows mechanical lovemaking—the duty brand. I'm sure my husband senses my lack of genuine enthusiasm. There are long periods of silence when I strongly suspect he is brooding over his ineptness as a lover.

Your advice to "No Pulse" was to seek outside help. How does one go about it? Wouldn't it crush a man's ego to be told he is a romantic failure? Help me, please. I don't want to lose this wonderful guy.—S.A.D.

Find Out,
Don't Guess
In Bridge

"If you can guess right when all about you are guessing wrong and blaming it on you," Kipling or somebody once wrote, "then you are a man." It's easy to see that Kipling was not a bridge player.

Put yourself in the West seat, like thousands of college students a few weeks ago in the annual Intercollegiate Bridge Championships. Your job is to defeat the contract of five spades. (No fair peeking at the East hand.) You open the singleton club. Declarer wins with the ace of clubs and leads the king of spades.

You win with the ace of spades and think to yourself: "Now is the time to show what sort of bridge player I am. I must guess whether my partner has the ace of hearts or the ace of diamonds."

Already Dead
You are already dead, whether or not you guess right. A bridge player doesn't guess when there is a way to be sure.

You must refuse the first trump trick. Take the second trump and keep your eyes open. East plays the nine of hearts on the second round of trumps, and you no longer have a guess: you know exactly which red ace your partner has.

You lead a heart to the ace, and back comes a club. Don't be in a hurry to win a trick at the earliest possible moment. If you wait, your partner may be able to guide you with a discard.

Daily Question
Dealer, at your right, bids one heart. You hold: S K Q J 10 9 8 6; H 10; D A; C A J 8 4. What do you say?

Answer: Double. You expect to jump to four spades at your next turn. The advantage of doubling first is that your partner may have K-Q of clubs and an ace, in which case you have a chance of getting to a good slam contract. (Copyright, 1963)

Mackville CYO
Names Officers

MACKVILLE — Thomas Bauer has been named president of the CYO of St. Edward Catholic Church. Daniel Stevenson will serve as vice president, Miss Susan Hawley, secretary, Miss K. M. Huebner, treasurer, and Miss Kathy Brehm, entertainment chairman.

The club will meet this evening at the church.

Miss Mary Striegel will be inducted as secretary and Miss Linda Nieuwenhuis as treasurer of the Young Ladies Fidelity of the Blessed Virgin Mary at St. Edwards Catholic Church. The ceremony will be held in April at the church.

Plans for a spring baby sitting clinic and the May crowning were also discussed at a recent meeting.

Right Wax
Determines Polishing

Whether you own or rent an electric floor polisher you'll get good results only if you use the right kinds of waxes with it.

For every floor except asphalt tile you can use a liquid solvent-based wax. This is the same kind of wax as paste wax. In liquid form it cleans as it polishes. You can tell it from its "need to polish" label.

For floors that aren't wood or cork you can also use a water-based wax.

Probably you'll need to do a complete waxing job on your floors only twice a year if you use liquid solvent-based wax.

Prepare Floor for Wax
To prepare your floors for the waxing job run the vacuum or use a damp mop to pick up the dust. On the clean floor put down six or eight pools of wax, about two inches in diameter. Keep them about three feet apart. This is a convenient way to work with the polisher.

Run the machine into the pools of wax, spreading it into a thin film. The polishing brush on the machine loosens the dirt and picks it up as it spreads the wax. Let the wax dry.

With a polishing brush or a buffing pad on the machine go over the floor to give it a shine. You probably won't need to re-wax for several months except in traffic areas.

Using the buffer on the polishing machine is a good way to return the floors between waxings. Don't dust a waxed floor with an oil mop as it softens the wax.

On wood floors try to run the polisher with the grain of the wood.

Chipped
Enamel

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: How can I fix up my refrigerator which has some of the enamel chipped off at the corner? It is a steel, not a porcelain, refrigerator.

A: Try touching up the chipped area with one of the touch-up preparations for furniture and appliances widely available at variety stores, supermarkets, hardware and paint dealers. Or use a liquid porcelain glaze, available at most of the same sources. It may be impossible to match the color of the rest of the finish exactly, but the repair will make the chipped area less conspicuous. Best repair of all would be to have the entire refrigerator resprayed with a new finish.

WATER STAINS DULL BATHTUB BOTTOM

Q: We have a pink bathtub. When dry, the bottom of the tub is very dull and has what appears to be water stains on it. How can I make the bottom of the bathtub shiny again to match the rest of the tile surface? How can I remove the water stains? Is there any way to prevent this?

A: If the water staining is the cause of the dull finish, try the following to remove the water deposits and soap scum: Use a quick floor tile stain remover, in paste form, available at floor covering dealers and some housewares stores; follow instructions on the container. Or make a thick paste of a scratchless scouring powder and kerosene (the very careful of the fire hazard and keep bathroom well ventilated while working) and rub on the bottom, allow to remain about 20 minutes, rub again and rinse off with plenty of clear water.

If the dullness of the tub bottom is due to a worn-off finish (harsh and abrasive cleansers, detergents, etc.), there is no way to restore the shine other than refinishing.

The water staining is usually due to hard water. Installing a water-softening unit will help prevent this; or use a water-conditioning powder in baths; widely available at supermarkets.

Parents' World
Eating Time Nothing
To Get 'Alarmed' About

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Eve Jones: I too, once had a problem with a slow eater. I solved it by setting an alarm clock to ring after 25 minutes.

When it rang, I took my son's plate away. After a week he learned to eat faster, and that was that.

MRS. J.W. As an old alarm clock hater, I'm opposed to such an inhuman way of limiting his time. Don't you agree it would be just as effective, and, if nothing else, less noisy, to remove his plate when the rest of the family has finished?

Dear Eve Jones: Something I never understood is how anybody, even a trained psychologist, forms an opinion without knowing the people involved, especially when there's so much difference between children.

MISS P.S. The differences that seem so large in everyday life are seldom very important inconsiderations of typical neurotic problems.

Just as people generally come equipped with two legs, two arms, etc., and have similar needs for basic foods and physical protection, they also have highly individual basic psychological needs and reactions.

The trained psychologist with some knowledge of the typical world a child inhabits and with information about the child's behavior can usually form quite an accurate generalized impression of what's wrong and can then usually provide a helpful suggestion as to how to correct matters.

To Mrs. N. Z.: I will try to help you if you send me your name and address; your question isn't suitable for publication in this column.

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller

What's Up Your Sleeve?

Many a lovely has welcomed the return of the sleeve to fashion's fold. If for no other reason than that it hides a multitude of beauty sins—like a thin, gangling arm!

But you cannot depend on sleeves for full-time coverage. There will still be plenty of those together. Keeping the arms rigid, rest your hands on the floor directly beneath your shoulders; point your fingers outward, at right angles to your wrists, and draw your spine into a straight line.

Now, by bending your elbows outward, lower your head to the floor and then push upward to starting position. Repeat ten to fifteen times daily. Work for a very slow but rhythmic movement. The slower and more evenly you move, the quicker the build-up. Also be sure to let your arms do the work. The hip joints will try to get into the act, but don't let them.

If you perform diligently, it's a promise that your arms will assume lovelier lines. And long before bare summer fashions are upon you!

For a more attractive bosom, write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, requesting five-cent pamphlet, "Enhanced Bosom Line."

Always Put First Things First While Budgeting

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:

I am a working girl, earning $200 net every four weeks (after income tax, retirement, life insurance and medical insurance deductions). I plan to get an apartment by myself. If I can get friends and relatives to lend me the old furniture, I shall get an unfurnished apartment.

I have monthly car payments of $42, quarterly car insurance, $31, and spend approximately $15 a month on gas and upkeep.

I shall be undergoing expensive medical treatment, the cost of which I don't yet know.

Could you recommend some sort of budget?

D. N., San Lorenzo, Calif.
Dear D. N.:

My first recommendation is that you find out what those medical treatments are going to cost before you take on an apartment.

Sermon Topic

HORTONVILLE — "The Reconciling Power of the Cross" will be the topic of the Rev. E. Floetz, Dale, at 8 p.m. Wednesday for midweek Lenten service at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church.

lease. That could very well determine how much rent you'll be able to pay. You don't want to set up housekeeping worrying about getting a roommate.

However, you might look over these figures in the meantime. They will give you a basis for planning, even though you find you want to juggle one here to balance another somewhere else.

Housing, $65; household operating costs, $23; food at home, $35; clothing, including upkeep, $30; savings, $10; unpaid bills, $12; personal allowance, $20; miscellaneous (gifts, church, etc.), $20; medical costs, $10; recreation and vacation, $10; car expenses, including insurance, $23.

Perhaps $75 a month rent will be a necessary limit. But shop around to get the best buy for you. Possibly, the car may have to go in order to handle those medical expenses if your medical insurance doesn't carry the load.

In any event, put first things first. That's always the smartest way to operate.

(Do you have a money problem? You can write to Mary Feeley in care of this paper; she will answer those of most general interest in her column.)

Antique Show to Open Thursday At Oshkosh

Balloons, background melodies from old music boxes, and a restaurant with a gay yellow awning will lend a carnival atmosphere to the Third Annual Antiques Show and Sale Thursday and Friday at Oshkosh.

The show is open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the Twentieth Century Clubhouse. It is presented by the Oshkosh branch of the American Association of University Women.

Visitors to the show may have luncheon, supper, or special French pastries, in the Cafe Avril, at tables decorated with forsythia, in the dining room of the clubhouse. Diners may also sit at ice-cream tables on the stage, where they may view activities among the antiques booths.

Menus will be written in French and displayed on old-fashioned easels. The buffet table will be set with antique serving pieces.

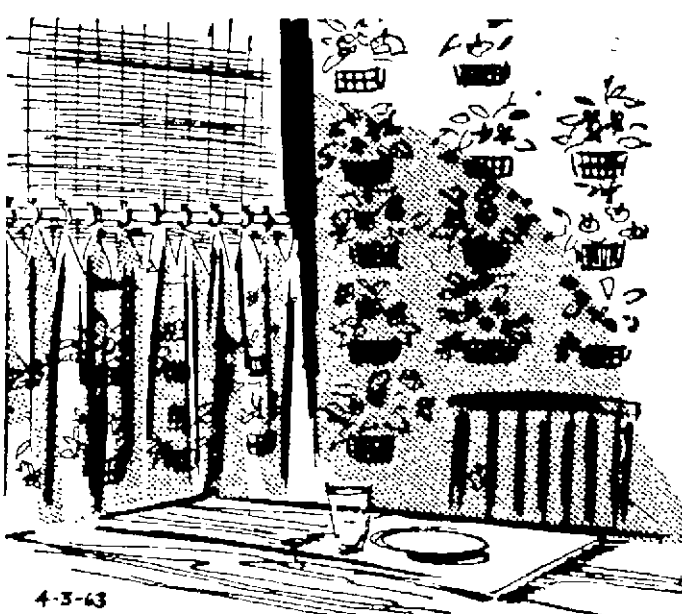

A nursery service will be provided. All proceeds from refreshments and entrance fees are donated to the club's scholarship and fellowship programs.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Match Fabric and Walls

Wallpaper and fabric in the same pattern can be delightful in a small room. The pattern must be subdued and limited in color, but the room is unified and decorated with it as it can be in no other way. The sketched suggestion for Mrs. S. G. shows a woven blind for the window top to vary the pattern coverage and to keep the room from looking as crowded as it would with full length curtains. Plenty of background space showing gives the pattern a see-through look.

Choice of pattern makes all the difference between success and failure. Mrs. S. G. A pattern that's right for a much larger room can be wrong for a small one because it fills close quarters to the brim with too many eye-catching motifs and too many colors. But if the pattern helps to push walls apart rather than pull them together, decoration of the room and its color scheme is taken care of with very little help from anything else. Look for soft, light colors that avoid strong contrasts.

Mrs. T. T. McK.: We recently modernized our kitchen and put soft melon colored tiling part way up the walls. Wallpaper with a little turquoise figure on white is used the rest of the way and between upper and lower cabinets.

The cabinets are wood in natural finish, rather light, and counter tops are white with turquoise marbleizing. We didn't change the gray stone effect tile floor. The room isn't colorful enough to please me, but nothing else will go in it except cafe curtains on the double window, and two stools to pull up to the breakfast counter.

Match the curtains and the complete stools, or the stool seats to each other in brilliant turquoise. Decorate the walls with whatever you have or will buy in copper-pans, molds, etc.—and display other copper to point up the melon color.

Mrs. C.C.: "I have a cork-topped table which I care for merely by wiping with a damp cloth. I notice that it's beginning to look dull and change color slightly. Is there any special treatment for cork that would help?"

Surfaces of cork used for furniture are well sealed, but too much water, used for a long time, may thin the sealer to the point where the cork will discolor and flake if water is left on it accidentally. And dirt will become increasingly difficult to remove as the sealer wears down. Protect the cork with wax, paste or cream, applied lightly. Don't use furniture polish.

SEAMS TO ME Young Fry Dress Work

By Patricia Scott

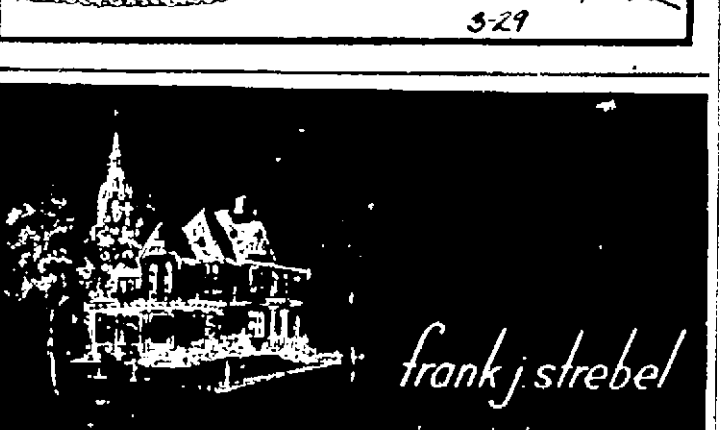

Most young girls grow taller before they grow wider. This leaves them with many dresses too short at the hem and too short-waisted to be worn.

Here are two ways of adding life to dresses by adding trim to the hem and waist and using the original hem. For eyelet ruffled dresses, the best width of ruffling is two or 2½ inches. The number of ruffled rows you use depends on how much the dress must be lengthened.

You'll need: white percale or lawn for hem band; eyelet ruffling; rickrack or braid in color; trim for bodice, if desired. Cut fabric strips and seam into band. Band length is the distance around hem. Band width is the present hem depth plus desired added dress length.

Turn one edge of band under ¼ inch and top stitch for hem on the wrong side (figure 4). edge. Stitch ruffling to band, with lower edge covering band hem. Second row should cover 1/3 to 1/2 of the first row. The same hem if more rows are used (figure 1).

Cut off present hem in dress. same pieced fabric to sleeves and Stitch colored rickrack or braid trim with rickrack, as shown, to raw hem edge. Fold top edge and for some ensuing days, the city of Green Bay and its environs will be approached apprehensively by a bevy of young ladies who will be armed with small paper hats, a quest, and "dignity and courtesy."

Appleton Girl One of Student Nurses on Convention Fund Drive

The young ladies, about 60 of them, who are students at the Bellin School of Nursing, have embarked now upon a project which is interesting enough to bear watching, and which has been met with some sedate frowns from hospital personnel but also with great encouragement from elsewhere.

Purpose: To descend upon the waiting world in pursuit of $4,000, a sum considered sufficient to finance a journey of 34 of them to the upcoming student nurses' national convention in Atlantic City, N. J., on May 13. The young ladies, unaccustomed to such campaigns and with utterly no experience in the solicitation of funds, are regarded as over-bold.

Miss Nancy Schmit of Appleton, one of the young ladies, says: "None of us knows how to ask for things, but we just have to approach people with only dignity and courtesy and tell them our story."

Miss Schmit, the daughter of Mrs. Wynona Schmit, 211 1/2 St., and of Neenah, is now a student in the Bellin School of Nursing and is soon to bounce into the world as a full-fledged nurse. Her ultimate goal since she was seven years old. Her consorts are the other 33 juniors and seniors of the three-year course — chosen to entitle their venture the "Help Make Better Nurses' Week" campaign.

Green Bay Chamber of Commerce has been persuaded by the young ladies to aid them in their effort to contact business — some 1,200 of them. An agreement has been reached to provide the little ice cream cartons into which will be placed the $4,000; and the company has promised the that for every ice cream carton sold during the week-long campaign, the fund would be given cents.

The magic name of the Green Bay Packers was thought of too early by the young ladies, and officials of the organization have been approached, it is thought, in offering some of encouragement.

es, TV, Radio

Members of radio, television and newspaper have been approached (it wasn't too difficult) to the aid of the maidens making certain pronouncements to the waiting world. This of them.

Furthermore, the nursing students have smiled guilefully at their superiors who were at the proposition from the beginning. One of them, Florence Durkee, director of school of Nursing, fell before the onslaught of young enthusiasm — as who hasn't?

Just couldn't resist all that "dignity," she said. "I just had to be in." And when her resolve wavered for ever so brief a moment, she was captivated to an extent that the nurses have a determined lieutenant capable of articulate and persistence in aiding community development.

icated to Campaign

The girls, dedicated to the campaign and designing it as a community organized descent upon the city, have done the groundwork and have done it with zeal and thoroughness. But they still feel it with fear and misgivings. "We have never done anything like this before," they say. "We have divided the community into sections, and have persuaded the younger to aid them as well as an. Though each of the 60 works a full 40-hour week

Xavier Students Enter District Music Festival

Event at Kimberly: Sell Band Records To Finance Ohio Trip

The Xavier High School band has entered 73 students in the Wolf River District solo-ensemble festival to be held at Kimberly High School Saturday.

Twenty of these have entered as soloists, with the remaining band students entering in ensembles. Students receiving first place ratings in the Class A division will travel to Madison for the state solo and ensemble festival on May 4.

Xavier band members are taking orders for a long-playing record made at the band's Feb. 17 concert concluding the Carnival of Arts weekend. In addition to a wide variety of "pop" numbers by the Xavier concert band, wind ensemble and stage band, the recording features several jazz numbers by a group of local musicians. The record is, according to Francis Scholtz, Xavier band director, intended to be one which will be played often for its entertainment value.

Cleveland Trip

Proceeds from selling the record will be used to help defray the cost of the wind ensemble's trip to Cleveland, Ohio, where it has been chosen to play at the opening of the National Catholic Music Educators convention. The band will leave for Cleveland on April 21.

Other coming events for the band include a public concert to be held in the Xavier auditorium

Report of Hazing at UW Fraternity Will be Probed, Dean Asserts

MADISON (AP) — LeRoy Luberg, dean of students at the University of Wisconsin, said Monday that the Inter-Fraternity Judicial Commission would meet Wednesday to consider a report of alleged hazing in a campus fraternity.

Luberg said the father of a sophomore student reported his son pledged Beta Theta Pi social fraternity last week.

Luberg said university regulations prohibit hazing involving mental or physical torture. The dean said the president of Beta Theta Pi had resigned voluntarily and the members have voted against holding such initiations in the future.

Winners Awarded Desk, Chair in Newest Contest

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! Here's a new opportunity for you to win a school-style desk and chair to use in your own home!

Five sets, products of the BeLA Division of the J. and J. Tool and Machine Company of Chicago, will be awarded as the national prizes in today's contest. Strong and handsome, the desk is 29 inches high, its frame is heavy-gauge tubular steel, its 18-by-24-inch top is plastic covered and beneath it is a compartment for storing books and handicraft materials. The chair is also of tubular steel with plywood seat and back. The outfit need not be fastened to the floor and can be used in any room you choose.

For a chance to win one of the five desk sets, you must first win a preliminary local prize which today is Space Gun Puzzle. When you have figured out how to take it apart, your next task is to put the space gun back together—and what a challenge this is!

Five Puzzles

Five Space Gun Puzzles will be awarded to boys and girls of the Fox Cities area. Their entries will automatically compete with preliminary winners from all other cities where this column is published to find the five national prize winners. The prizes will be awarded at preliminary and national levels for accuracy, neatness and originality.

To enter the contest you must find the one astronaut in the picture above who is different from all the others. Color him, draw a circle around him or otherwise identify him. Then clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postal card and print your name, age and address beneath it. With paints, crayons, cut-outs or by other means, decorate your entry to make it neat and original. Mail it to Cappy Dick's Midwest Contest at the Appleton Post-Crescent before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Prize winners' names will be published here and their prizes will be sent to them by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned. (Copyright, 1963)

'Last Family' Record

Best-Seller Among Cuban Exiles
Pokes Fun at 'Red House' Back Home

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The hottest selling phonograph record among Cuban exiles is "The Last Family," which pokes fun at inhabitants of the "Red House" in Cuba. It was inspired by the runaway best seller "The First Family," lampooning occupants of the White House.

The Latin version, recorded in Spanish, is selling so fast that Miami stores can't keep it in stock. The first issue, 5,000 copies, sold almost immediately and a second 3,000 has been issued. An English edition is planned.

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channel 2)—CBS Reports delves into the technological and philosophical questions about the use of pesticides in "The Silent Spring of Rachel Carson." The author of the best-seller on the subject appears frequently, calmly stating her position. Through interviews with producer Jay McMillen, the opposition tells its side. While the talking is going on, you will see some wonderfully pictorial nature shots on the screen.

6:30-8 (Channel 4-5) — The Virginian uses the old Western plot of the travelers trapped by a gunslinger. In this case, Judge Garth (Lee J. Cobb) and some others are under siege in a stagecoach way station, with Paul Richards and his gang demanding that one of the prisoners surrender himself. (Color)

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — The Perry Como Show serves as a good showcase for the multi-talented Catherine Valente. Another talented guest is impressionist George Kirby, who successfully takes off such diverse voices as Jack E. Leonard, Ray Charles and Ella Fitzgerald. Ken Murray appears with some of his home movies. (Color)

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show plays on the jealousy theme again, with Dick Dawson the guest star, appearing as a famous British entertainer who has a way with the ladies. Van Dyke thinks Dawson is exercising his talents with Mary Tyler Moore, and resents it nicely.

9-10 (Channel 11) — Naked City tells a story about Indians, who are used on New York construction projects for working on lofty girders. The basic plot is a simple love triangle, with Piper Laurie, as an Indian girl, at the apex. The two men fight on a narrow girder and one falls to his death. An ancient Indian belief hampers the police work, and makes the story.

9-10 (Channel 2) — "Mission of Fear" on The Steel Hour might be more at home on Perry Mason. This is a tale of murder and blackmail, with Salome Jens and Robert Horton as the couple visited by a blackmailer. This unsavory character is found dead, and Horton is the chief suspect.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — The Eleventh Hour introduces a thoroughly sick family, but the characters are drawn so beautifully by writer Jerry De Bono (who is only 27) that you'll be fascinated.

10:20-12 (Channel 4-5) — Among the Tonight guests will be The Rooftop Singers and Francis Brun. (Color)

Sees Passage of Health Care Bill

CHICAGO (AP)—Ivan A. Nestingen, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, has predicted that a health care bill supported by the Kennedy administration will be approved at this session of Congress.

Nesting, former mayor of Madison, Wis., spoke Monday at a nationwide assembly of family doctors who heard a contrasting forecast on the fate of President Kennedy's program for medical care for the aged under Social Security.

Rep. Durward Hall, R-Mo., told the meeting the President's program is unrealistic and predicted it would die in the House Ways and Means Committee by a 15-9 vote.

Nesting contended the government is not seeking to dominate hospitals or doctors. He said organized medicine, principally through the American Medical Association, has created misunderstanding and fostered misinformation relative to the Kennedy health care program.

War Vets, Dependents
May Receive Increase
In Benefits Under Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some war veterans or their dependents would receive increased benefits under six bills passed by the House and sent to the Senate. The measures' estimated first-year price tag is $6.6 million. The biggest item in the package passed by the House Monday calls for a 10 per cent increase in monthly rates of dependency and indemnity compensation for eligible parents and children of veterans who died of service-connected diseases.

Castro Sorry MIGs Fired on Freighter

Cuban Apology for Attack on Floridian Contains Promise to Avoid Such Incidents in Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — The incident of the Cuban MIG attack on the U.S. freighter Floridian was officially stamped closed today following an apology from the Castro regime.

Various Cuban issues remained very much open, however, with prospects that President Kennedy would be asked about them at his news conference this afternoon.

Among them:

1. Withdrawal of Soviet troops from Cuba, disappointingly slow from Kennedy's standpoint. Only "several hundred" more were said to have left the island since Kennedy reported the departure of 3,000 at his last press conference March 21. That leaves an estimated 13,000 to 14,000 still in Cuba.
2. A further explanation of the administration's reasons for clamping down on anti-Castro raiders.

Note to Moscow

Also expected shortly is a U.S. note to Moscow rejecting the Soviet Union's charge that the United States was to blame for Cuban "exiles' hit-and-run attacks on Soviet ships near Cuba March 18 and 26.

The Castro apology for the March 28 attack on the Floridian, coupled with a promise to avoid such incidents in the future, arrived at the State Department late Tuesday in a note presented by Czech Ambassador Miloslav Ruzek. The Czechs handle Cuban interests here in the absence of U.S.-Cuban diplomatic ties.

Press officer Joseph W. Reap quickly pronounced the Havana answer satisfactory in the United States and said, "We consider this particular incident closed."

The Floridian was about 25 miles off the north coast of Cuba on a San Juan to Miami run when two Soviet-built MIGs fired shots across its bow and stern. The ship was not hit.

In its note, the Cuban government said its pilots had been chasing another vessel and had fired warning shots at the Floridian by mistake.

All Possible Measures

The Cuban government said "it had no wish to interfere with the U.S. or other international shipping in the Caribbean, that it regrets the incident of March 28 and that it is undertaking to adopt all possible measures to avoid a recurrence of the incident," Reap said.

Ruzek said the Castro regime had also asked the United States to take due account of the "seriousness of the situation" by clamping down on hit-and-run raids on Cuba.

Reap declined direct comment on this, but noted the Kennedy administration's Saturday announcement of tighter measures against freelance forays on Cuba.

In the Bahamas 16 Cuban crew members of a raiding ship apprehended by British officials over the weekend were jailed pending an investigation. The 17th, American Jerry Buchanan of Miami, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal entry, posted a $70 bond and won adjournment of his case on condition he leave the Bahamas by Friday.

Bill Allows Counties New Post

Measure Providing Administrative Man Aired Before Senate

MADISON (AP)—An Assembly-passed measure authorizing counties to set up a county administrative officer drew only token opposition at a hearing before the Senate Governmental and Veterans Affairs Committee Tuesday.

The bill, by Assemblyman Jerome Quinn, R-Green Bay, was approved 81-7 in that house.

Sen. Leo P. O'Brien, R-Green Bay, committee chairman, said his long-time opposition to the idea remains but conceded that a change in sentiment by other senators may insure passage of the bill.

Sen. Norman Sussman, D-Milwaukee, said his objection to the Quinn measure is that county boards would have the option of appointing the county administrator or having him elected by the people.

Sussman said such an office should be elective.

Quinn countered with a suggestion that such a requirement could not pass the Legislature. The bill has to take all counties into account, he said, and smaller counties will want to combine the duties of an administrative officer with the county clerk, county chairman or other existing office.

U.A.R. Seeks Normal Relations With France

CAIRO (AP)—Aly Sabry, head of the United Arab Republic Executive Council, said Tuesday night preliminaries have begun toward resumption of diplomatic relations with France. They were broken in 1956 after the Israeli and British-French invasions of Egypt.

Britain and the U.A.R. patched things up in January 1961. The U.A.R. does not recognize Israel.

French Planes Arm With U. S. A-Weapons

Armaments Control Will Remain in American Hands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States this week will arm with nuclear weapons two units of French fighter-bombers based in West Germany but the weapons will remain under American control, Defense Department sources have disclosed.

Officials said Tuesday night that the arrangement was worked out in negotiations begun five years ago between France and the United States and completed about a year ago.

The delay, they said, was caused by the time needed to acquire "lock and key" devices by which the United States retains control of the warheads.

The American control is retained through the so-called "permissive link" system. Thus even though a foreign national may be flying a plane equipped with a U.S. nuclear weapon he is unable to fire it without an electronic go-ahead from another base. That electronic permission is kept in American hands.

Ninth Pact

Officials said this is the ninth such bilateral agreement between the United States and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. The groundwork for the agreements was laid by NATO government heads in the late 1950s.

The agreement, the sources said, does not apply to any French units on French soil.

U.S. sources contended that the delivery of the U.S. nuclear weapons would make no change in the divergent U.S. and French views on nuclear arms policy.

The United States opposes independent national nuclear forces, favoring a multinational NATO force. Figuring largely in President Charles de Gaulle's "grand design" for France is her own atomic force. He has turned down President Kennedy's offer of Polaris weapons to be put under NATO control.

Paris' Standpoint

From Paris' standpoint, the delivery of the weapons doesn't damage De Gaulle's stand, for the weapons will not be on French soil.

The United States feels it is remaining true to its policy opposing the spread of nuclear weapons for only the French units assigned to NATO are getting the weapons.

The previous eight agreements were made with the Netherlands, Belgium, West Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Canada, the officials said.

The only agreement left to be put into effect, they said, was the one with Canada. Debate over whether to accept the nuclear warheads is the hottest issue in the present Canadian election campaign.

American Everest Expedition at 22,000-Foot Level

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The American Everest expedition crossed the threshold of the western cwm in continuing bad weather Tuesday and established its advance base camp at more than 22,000 feet.

A message received here said the weather that delayed their original plan to reach the advance base camp Monday persisted, but the American mountain climbers fought on grimly and surmounted the obstacles.

The team's next task is to ferry its equipment across the ice.

U. S. Space Budget May Have Been Saved From Expensive Cut

BY WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The Russians may have saved the U. S. space budget from a cut.

Some Republicans have been talking of whacking anywhere from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000 from the $5.7 billion requested for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the coming fiscal year.

But if the Soviet rocket now en route to the moon area proves a success, most observers here believe it will give the Republicans second thoughts about trying for a cut.

Fresh Achievement

A fresh Soviet achievement now would lend impetus to the Administration argument that we can not afford to slack off, whatever the cost, since we are in a crucial space race with the Russians.

Edward C. Welsh, Executive Secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, makes the point, for example, that "in this great race, we have a margin to make up and a challenge to meet."

In a speech prepared for delivery in New York today before the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, he cautions that "it is indeed possible that 1963 will be a year of more space spectaculars for the Soviets than for us."

Republicans, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, have argued that there must be some soft spots—places where cuts could be made without impairing the space effort—in a program whose costs are mounting so rapidly.

Welsh, however, says the rising cost "is as it should be." Our increasing success in space, he says, has been a result of the large sums invested up to now. He put the total cost of the space program for the past six years at $9.5 billion—or less than 20 cents per space traveler.

"By spending less than 20 cents per week, the average American has seen his country closing the space gap with Soviet Russia, has gloried in the flights by Shepard, Grissom, Glenn, Carpenter, and Shira, has obtained vast amounts of information concerning outer space, and has purchased insurance from improved defense."

Badgers Begin Spring Drills

89 Candidates Out For Practice; Plot Personnel Shifts

MADISON (AP)—Tuesday was the time for the Wisconsin football team to learn that the Rose Bowl really was last season's game.

The Badgers opened spring drills, with Coach Milt Bruhn directing traffic for 89 candidates. And starting with the first workout, Bruhn and his assistants began plotting personnel shifts and new assignments.

The task confronting the Badgers is a repeat of last season's success, which included the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl appearance.

"This was no Big Ten championship team today," Bruhn said. "It was a typical first day with a lot of assignments missed."

Good Physical Shape He said the candidates turned up in good physical condition, "especially those we know are going to play some football."

Five drills are scheduled for this week, with scrimmages set for Thursday and Saturday. There will be three workouts next week, then the break for the spring vacation. The Badgers will get in their remaining 12 workouts before the intrasquad game May 11 brings an end to the spring sessions.

Missing from the drills were 11 candidates, some of them lettermen, who are involved in other sports or bearing down on studies.

11 Games in Women's AAU Cage Tourney

Favored Nashville Swings Into Action For First Time

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Eleven games were scheduled for today and tonight in the Women's National AAU basketball tournament, with the favorites seeing their first action.

Nashville, Tenn., defending champion, will meet Denver, which drew a bye after the Berkeley, Calif., team withdrew from the 24-team tourney.

Scores were one-sided in five of the seven first-round games played Tuesday. ## Lee Maye Homers in 1st Inning

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Warren Spahn made time stand still and slowed the Minnesota Twins way down as he scattered six hits in going the distance in the Milwaukee Braves 5-1 victory Tuesday.

The 41-year-old Spahn fanned a pair of Twins and walked three as he joined Lew Burdette as the only Milwaukee hurlers to complete nine-inning stints in the spring drills.

The triumph was the fourth in five games for Milwaukee, once more at the .500 after 24 games. The Twins have a 7-17 record.

The Braves collected 11 hits, five of them for extra bases, off Minnesota's Camilo Pascual, who also went the distance.

The Braves started with a bang — Lee Maye's first homer of the exhibition effort as he led off the first inning.

Torre Doubles Then Frank Bolling singled and Hank Aaron walked. After Eddie Mathews fanned and Mack Jones grounded out, Norm Larker walked to fill the bases. Joe Torre's double blasted down the left field line cleared the bases and Spahn had a nice comfortable four run cushion.

The Twins got their run in the second on a walk for Harmon Killebrew, a safe hunt by Bob Allison and a single by Earl Batley. The threat was still alive until Aaron made a running catch of Bernie Allen's long foul and made a tremendous throw to third, doubling up Allison who was trying to advance. For all intents and purposes, that was the end of the Twins.

The Braves got their final run in the eighth on a triple by Mathews and a double by Tommie Aaron.

The Braves were back home at West Palm Beach today, entering the Baltimore Orioles' Denny Lemaster and Baltimore's Milt Pappas drew the pitching assignments.

Monroe Moore Hits 729 Set

Him, Partner Take Third in Classic Doubles

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Monroe Moore's 729 series—the second highest by an individual in any event thus far in the American Bowling Congress tournament—boosted him and George Chivovsky of Pontiac, Mich., into third place in classic doubles with 1,340.

Moore, 29, who won $23,250 on a television bowling program last year, had games of 248, 254 and 227 in the doubles event Tuesday.

His partner, 40, shot 611 on games of 231, 205 and 175.

Only Don Whelan of Buffalo, N.Y., who rolled 730 last Saturday to take the lead in classic singles, has bettered Moore's series.

Joe Joseph and Billy Goleniewski of Detroit lead classic doubles with a 1,378.

The Dewitts of Syracuse, N.Y., hit 3,024 Tuesday night for ninth place among regular teams. Jim Micale was high bowler with 678.

The leaders in the other events were unchanged.

Andy Renaldi of Youngstown, Ohio, who won the regular singles title with 720 last year, came up with 571 in defense of his crown in the event Mahaffey isn't ready.

Group Date Requests

Bowl-O-Rama Entries Near 200

By either today or tomorrow approximately 200 spots will be reserved for the "Johnny Come Earlies" in the first annual Post-Crescent Bowl-O-Rama.

As entries continue to roll in, it is becoming more and more evident that those who wait no longer will be the most certain of getting their preferred date for bowling.

Along with a large number of entries from Kaukauna, Little Chute, Kimberly, Combined Locks, Neenah, Menasha, Twelve Corners, Black Creek, Bonduel and Manawa.

Several more requests for group dates have been received and there are indications that several entire leagues wish to enter. Should a league wish to enter all its teams or any part of them, arrangements can be made and the group can be put together on the same shift, same day.

Largest single group to come in so far has been 23 bowlers from the Auto Couples League which participates at the 41 Bowl.

The individual handicap tournament will open Tuesday, April 23 and continues April 25, 27, 28, 30, and May 2, 4 and 5. Bowlers will roll four games across eight lanes and there will be three bowlers per lane.

In addition to cash awards that will be dished out after the tournament, a number of merchandise prizes will be available to bowlers, including those who do not hit high enough scores to qualify for the cash awards.

There will be two divisions for men and two for women. Class A for men is based on those with an average of 161 or better with Class B for those with 160 or under. Women's Class A will be for those with 141-over and Class B will be for those with 140-under averages.

Receive Checks The winner in each of the four divisions will receive a gold sport-type wrist watch in addition to the first place cash award. Cash prizes will be broken down so one of every four bowlers in the tournament will receive a check after the meet is completed.

Merchandise awards, in addition to the watches include a number of bowling bags and pairs

Terror Track Team Makes '63 Start in Indoor Meet

AHS, 5 Other Schools Try To Dethrone Manty Thursday

Appleton High School's 1963 track team makes its first competitive start Thursday night in the Fox River Valley Conference indoor meet at Manitowoc.

AHS and five other schools will attempt to dethrone Manitowoc, which won the championship in last year's inaugural. Green Bay West, which finished last in 1962, is the only conference school that won't compete this year.

Returning Terrors who won points in individual events in the '62 meet are Mike Woehler and Gary Hietpas. Dick Bunn and Jerry Bishop helped earn points on relay units. The Terrors finished fifth last year, with 23 points—five behind fourth-place Sheboygan South.

Woehler, who placed third in the high jump and fifth in the 60-yard high hurdles will compete in both of these events again Thursday.

Hietpas, who came home third in the half-mile, will run a 440-yard leg in the 10-lap relay.

Bunn will compete in the 880-yard run. His duel with Green Bay East's Ken Barnhart, last year's winner of the event, could be one of the highlights of the meet.

Bishop has been entered in the 60-yard dash and will run the first (176-yard) leg of the 4-lap relay.

Chuck McKee will team with Woehler to form AHS' entry in the high hurdles. McKee will also run the 60-yard lows, along with Ken Kitzinger.

Teaming with Hietpas in the 10-lap relay will be Cliff Leider, "Chip" Taggart and Terry Grapengieser. Running in the 4-lap relay, besides Bishop, will be Leider, Lyle Kleman and Larry Freschl.

Sophomore Scott Metherington or Freschl will be the Terrors' second entry in the 60-yard dash. Metherington will also be one of AHS' broad-jumping entries. The other entrant has not been determined.

Sophomores Dennis Brinkman and Jim Dunsin will be the Terrors' second entries in the 880 and the high jump, respectively.

Appleton's remaining representatives will be Tim Krantzsch and Tom Karrow, in the shot put; Dick Popp and Bill Shockley, mile; and Dale Uecker and Mark Felthelm or sophomore Russ Kamme, pole vault.

Among the alternates Coach Keith Kohlman has selected are Bill Karrow, Pete Walter and Dave Goehier.

The two Sheboygan schools are rated strong, with North getting a slight nod as pre-meet favorite. Manitowoc has the balance needed to be a title threat, also. Manty is strong in the relays, the pole vault and the high jump—and also has the advantage of getting an early start on its own indoor track.

North appears to be strong in the relays, the mile, the sprint and the high jump.

Oshkosh's Bill Steinhilber will be the outstanding individual returning from last year. He won the high jump and the pole vault in 1962 and placed second in the 60-yard low hurdles.

The trials begin at 5 p.m. Thursday, and the finals are due to start at 8 p.m.

Among the revisions will be use of 8-ounce gloves, instead of 6-ounce gloves, and the use of the mandatory eight count and three knockdown rule in all championship fights. Four ring ropes also will be used, instead of three.

Jim O'Toole Runs Scoreless String to 22

Pinson Continues Return to Form; Mets Edge Cards

BY MIKE RATHIET Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim O'Toole's no magician, but with a little assist from a nail clipper, the rocky Cincinnati left-hander has been pulling goose eggs out of a hat.

O'Toole stretched his string of scoreless innings to 22 Tuesday, holding the Chicago White Sox to two singles in an eight-inning prep for his opening day pitching assignment as the Reds posted a 7-0 victory in an exhibition game at Tampa.

And O'Toole, who publicly stated he was out to get next Monday's opening day assignment and got it, gives much of the credit to the little nail clipper that's been a constant companion in his hip pocket since the spring training grind began.

The 26-year-old southpaw says an ingrown nail hampered his effectiveness last spring and resulted in a slow start that held him to a 16-13 record after he compiled a 19-9 mark in 1961. O'Toole vowed to keep the nail clipped, and has been doing the same to the batters.

Pinson Hits While O'Toole continued to shine, somewhat alleviating the problem caused by Bob Purkey's inability to pitch because of an ailing right shoulder, outfielder Vada Pinson again powered the

Masters Tourney Ready to Begin; Palmer Favorite

10 of 14 Former Winners Give Arnold Nod in Poll

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the "People's Choice," also is the favorite of the exclusive set—the former Masters Golf champions—to win the 27th annual Classic opening Thursday over the beautiful Augusta National Course.

A poll of 14 former winners of the championship gave the muscular Pennsylvanian 10 winning votes. One of the four he didn't receive was cast by Palmer himself. His selection was Jack Nicklaus, his conqueror in a National Open playoff last year.

That, surprisingly, was the only first place vote big Jack garnered. The others went to Tony Lema, who came into his own last fall and currently rates No. 4 on the PGA official money list for this year with almost $15,000 in winnings, Gene Littler, a former U.S. Open and amateur king and Don January, PGA playoff loser to Jerry Barber two summers ago.

Another eye-opener of the poll of past champions was the fact that Gary Player, the 1961 champion, did not receive a single first place vote. However, the jaunty little South African wasn't overlooked completely. He won six votes for second place and two for third.

Five Seconds Nicklaus picked up five seconds and four thirds to complete the "Big Three's" domination of the balloting.

Those naming Palmer as winner were Claude Harmon, Craig Wood, Byron Nelson, Cary Middlecoff, Henry Picard, Gene Sarazen, Sam Snead, Art Wall, Doug Ford and Player.

Herman Keiser picked Lema, Jimmy Demaret tabbed January and Jack Burke named Littler.

Palmer's picks were Nicklaus, Player and Lema. Player selected Palmer, Nicklaus and January.

The oddsmakers, operating informally in the absence of legalized bookmaking, have installed Palmer as a 4-1 choice to win an unprecedented fourth title in six years.

Player and Nicklaus both are rated 6-1 and the others in the field of 82 range from 10-1 up. Palmer, who has been practicing here since last Thursday, had his most unsatisfactory round yet Tuesday, a 4-over par 37-39—78.

"My driving was awful and my irons weren't good, either," was the way he summed up his performance.

He had sub-70 rounds in his first three trips around the course over the weekend, played 36 holes.

Tied Score When Frank Selvy was fouled on a pass—in play he had three shots but made only one, and the score was tied.

Coach Fred Schaus of the Lakers said the veteran Bob Pettit's play in the last 29 seconds gave the Lakers a life. "And we were very lucky to win."

"With the score 99-98 for the Hawks, Pettit took a shot, missed and got the rebound," said Schaus. "Under the 21-second rule the Hawks could have run out the clock. It certainly was no time to shoot. Instead, Pettit took another shot and missed. Of course, if Pettit had made that shot, we would have been dead."

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Colts hope to have solved their center field problem with the acquisition of Howie Goss from the Pittsburgh Pirates for Manny Mota and an undisclosed amount of cash.

The 28-year-old outfielder, who hit .243 in 89 games with the Pirates in 1962, was obtained by the Colts Tuesday. He will report to the club Friday in San Antonio.

General Manager Paul Richards said he was hopeful the 6-foot-4, 204-pounder would solve the Colt center field problem, a source of trouble throughout Houston's first year in the National League and object of a 1963 spring training campaign that apparently has not turned up any satisfactory solution.

Mota was one of the candidates, along with Carol Hardy and Ellis Burton.

"Colt stadium demands a top-fought center-fielder," Richards said, "and Goss should take care of the position. If he does, we will have a sounder ball club. He also has shown flashes of power and if he can hit at all for us he will be a valuable addition. He has speed and is an outstanding baserunner."

Montreal Gets 'Must' Win

Hawks Lose as Detroit Squares Hockey Series

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens got the victory they wanted and still are in contention in the National Hockey League semifinal playoffs for the Stanley Cup.

Losing of the first three games in the best-of-7 series, the Canadiens whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 Tuesday night and are confident of winning again Thursday night when the fifth game will be played in Toronto. "Just one win is all we need," Toe Blake, Montreal coach, had said on Monday.

Detroit whipped the Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 in the other semifinal Tuesday, squaring the best-of-7 series at 2-2. The fifth game is scheduled Thursday in Chicago.

A Montreal turnout of 14,094 saw Toronto take the lead on Ron Stewart's goal in the first period. The Canadiens tied it on Henri Richard's 10-footer early in the second period and a few minutes later went ahead on the first of Gilles Tremblay's two goals. The puck on the clincher went in after being deflected off the pads of Carl Brewer, Toronto defenseman.

What Blake called the "turning point" came early in the third period with Montreal leading 2-1.

Dave Keon, Toronto center, came in alone on Montreal goalie Jacques Plante.

First Breakaway

"When I saw Keon skating in there alone I thought there goes the game," Blake said. "Jacques was terrific in stopping him. That's the first breakaway I can remember that guy missing against us."

Blake added: "That was the turning point. The important thing is we didn't fold with the lead."

Armed Forces '5' Cops Pan-Am Trial

Places 5 Cagers on U. S. Squad for Games in Brazil

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A well-organized Armed Forces team—were kept the taller College All-Stars confused with a full-court defense. Wheaton, Ill.: Ed Smallwood, 6-4, won the Pan-American basketball trials, and placed five men on the 12-man United States team for the Pan-American Games.

It was the first time an Armed Services team has won the trials. "These boys were hungry," said Hal Fisher, coach of the championship team. "We're poor souls trying to pick up the crumbs."

"Our pressing defense is designed to make the job of getting the ball over the mid-stripe so tough, the other team is too exhausted to get off a good shot."

The College All-Stars got few good shots, and missed most of them. The final score was 71-57. It was never close in the last half.

Garland Pinholster, coach at Oglethorpe, Ga., who piloted the College All-Stars, was named by the U.S. Olympic Basketball Committee as head coach of the U.S. team. It will play in the Pan-American Games at Sao Paulo, Brazil, April 20-May 5 and stay for the world tournament at Rio De Janeiro in May.

Fisher, who coached the 1951 U.S. team in the Pan-Am Games, couldn't get released from his job. He is a civilian employee of the Army and sports director of the Presidio in San Francisco.

The NCAA University All-Stars, 89-76 winners over the AAU All-Stars in the third place game, placed three men on the squad, the College team and the AAU team two men each.

Named from the winning Services team—all Army men—were Mel Petersen, 6-4, formerly of Evansville, Ind.; Walt Torrance, 6-4, ex-UCLA star and 1960 Olympic team member; Cleveland McKinney, 6-2, Oakland, Calif. high school; and Bunk Adams, 6-3, Ohio U.

Named from the NCAA team were All-America Gary Bradds, 6-8 of Ohio State; George Wilson, 6-8, Cincinnati; and Vinnie Ernst, 5-9, Providence. Chosen from the College All-Stars were Lucious Jackson, 6-9, Pan American, Tex., and Mel Gibson, 6-3, Western Carolina N.C.

Named from the AAU team were Gary Shipp 6-5, of the AAU champion Bartlesville, Okla., club and formerly of Southeastern Oklahoma State; and Don Kojis, 6-5, formerly of Marquette, also a Bartlesville player.

Jackson was named most valuable player of the NAIA tourney. He grabbed 33 rebounds in two games, leading all players in the trials with 42 points. Kojis, below par here because of the flu, was most valuable player in the AAU tournament.

Five alternates were named. Any one of them could make the trip in the event a squad member is injured or unable to go. They are Willis Reed, 6-9, and Herschel West, 6-2, both of Grambling, La. Gary Hill, 6-4 of Oklahoma City; Tony Yates 6-1, Cincinnati; and Wally Frank, 6-8, Bartlesville, a former Kansas State Star.

Senators Get Minozo From Cardinals

Minnie Says He's Not Affected By Past Injury

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Minnie Minozo, veteran Cuban outfielder, has been purchased by the Washington Senators, who may be ready to showcase the zaniest outfielder in baseball today.

Minozo, 40-year-old right handed swinger with a .303 lifetime batting average for 13 years in the majors, was acquired from St. Louis Tuesday for an estimated $25,000. He'll be in an outfield that already includes the leader of the zanes—Jimmy Piersall.

Minozo was the second member of baseball's old guard to change uniforms in two days, following the sale of Duke Snider by the Los Angeles Dodgers to the New York Mets.

It also was the second transaction of the day, Pittsburgh traded outfielder Howie Goss to Houston for outfielder Manny Mota, acquired by the Colts in an off-season deal with San Francisco. The Pirates also will receive an undisclosed amount of cash.

Crashed Into Wall
But the headliner was Minozo, who insists he can successfully overcome the skull fracture he suffered last May crashing into a brick wall while chasing a drive off the bat of Snider.

"I have no effects from the injury," says Minozo, "no dizziness. In fact, I can't even tell where I was hurt. I'm still going to chase the ball even if there's dynamite close by."

Minozo's been playing with dynamite since he started his major league career with Cleveland in 1951. He holds the American League record for being hit by pitches, with 23, and is the major league record-holder for most years leading the league in getting hit, with 10.

Minozo also hits back. He batted over .300 in seven of his 12 full seasons in the majors with a top mark of .321 in 1951. He has hit 181 homers while playing for Cleveland, the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis.

He went to St. Louis in a trade for first baseman Joe Cunningham in November of 1961. Expected to be the Cards' regular left fielder, Minozo ran into the wall, also fractured his wrist in the accident and wound up appearing in only 39 games. He batted .196.

According to Senators' Manager Mickey Vernon, Minozo was hitting .236 in 13 exhibition games with St. Louis, and is believed to be fit and ready to play ball by Washington scouts.

The Senators also will send a minor league player to the St. Louis farm system at a later date to complete the transaction.

White Sox Cut Old Early Wynn; Either Cubs, Cards May Sign Him

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox broke the bad news to veteran righthander Early Wynn Tuesday.

Sorry, they said, but we must make room for youth. But he must not be finished for good. Both the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs are interested in him.

Wynn, at 43, was trying to work his way back on the White Sox roster. He was released last fall by the Sox so that he could negotiate for a front office job.

This failed to materialize. So did Gus, as he is known to his teammates.

B. Noffke Raps 257, 660 Series

Reetz Brothers Wins Second Half Crown in Major Scratch Loop

Bill Noffke strung together a sultry 660 series capped by a 257 single to sweep honors on the final night of loop competition in Appleton's Major Scratch League.

His effort helped Bassett's run three straight games from South Side Service but Reetz Brothers, which dropped three, still won the second half championship.

Bassett's finished in second place.

Team honors were split with Bassett's shooting the top single of 1051 and South Side putting together a solid 2951 three game total.

Don Strutz, in the 200s all night long, shot 235, 210 and 202 for a 647 set. Keith Gehring's 632 and Bud Jentz' 620 ranked next.

Other honor scores included: Don Van Goffen, 604; Al Seemann, 602; Ray Crane, 597; "Kat" Kasube, 596; Gene Blake, 589; Ed Flood, 589; Bob Schmitz, 584; Conny Knaus, 583; George Panke, 579; Bob Kositzke, 578; Ed Grass, 577; Gib Nabbefeld, 577; Frank Kroiss, 557; Wally Moore, 556; Chuck Bayer, 554; John DeYoung, 554, and Wally Roblee, 554.

DePere Kegler Now Third in Menasha Test

Three DePere bowlers moved into the top 10 in the first annual Bruin Bowl Handicap tournament over the weekend.

Clarence Braun, Menasha, and Al Kobussen, Menasha, retained first and second place, respectively. Phil Giovanna, DePere, took over third place with an 872 4 game series. His set included a 243 game.

John Sanders and Dick Scherer, also of DePere, took over the eighth and 10th spots. Sanders recorded an 841 total and Scherer had 830.

Twenty-nine bowlers pounded games that topped the 200 mark during the Saturday night shift. Woodrow Baker's 232 was tops.

Billy Kussow Awarded Wrightstown Athletic Achievement Medal

WRIGHTSTOWN — Billy Kussow has been awarded the 1963 Wrightstown High School athletic achievement medal by the Urban Klister post of the American Legion.

The high school has been presented with a plaque, on which the name of each year's award winner will be inscribed.

Jerry Aerts, of the grade school Rockets, was presented with the "most valuable football player" trophy by coach Larry Brick at the recent banquet.

Don DeWane was awarded the "most valuable basketball player" trophy by Coach Carl Newhouse. Dale Smith, of the Rockets, was presented the Legion sportsman's trophy.

Ed Short told Wynn Tuesday morning that "we have to go with our young fellows."

Manager Al Lopez then started Wynn against Cincinnati so that old Gus might have another chance to impress the scouts in the stands. Old Gus set down the Reds on 2 hits while hurling 4 shutout innings.

Such youngsters as Joel Horler and Mike Joyce, neither of whom was born when Wynn became a professional in the Florida State League in 1937, were mauling for 12 hits. The Sox lost, 7-0.

Wynn, however, once again showed his competitive ability and had at least two scouts ready to recommend their clubs to sign him.

Marty Marion of the Cardinals said "I definitely am going to recommend that the Cardinals sign him. He looked fine to me. His arm was good and loose and he had excellent control."

Favorable Report

Roy Johnson of the Cubs said "I can't say whether the Cubs would be interested but I'm going to give a favorable report on him."

Wynn said he felt fine and "I'm sure I could have gone seven innings. Maybe all the way. No, I don't have anything planned. I'm just going to keep working, probably at the White Sox minor league camp, hoping I can still land a job somewhere."

Lopez was hopeful someone would give Wynn a chance.

"I know the Cardinals have been watching him," said Lopez, who won pennants at Cleveland in 1954 and Chicago in 1959 with Wynn leading the American League in victories each time.

"If the Cardinals don't take him," continued Lopez, "I should think a team like Washington or the New York Mets could use him. But if he signs, I hope it is an ironclad contract for the year so that they don't use him to win No. 300 and then drop him."

Harrington Promises UW Tuition Fight

MADISON (AP) — A fight to keep University of Wisconsin tuition at present levels has been promised by Dr. Fred H. Harrington, president of the university.

This is an institution for youngsters from all walks of life. Harrington told a faculty meeting Monday night in referring to budget cuts and tuition increases proposed for the university spending program by a subcommittee of the Legislature Joint Finance Committee.

"The university didn't ask for more than it needed, though the requested increases were high in anticipation of enormous enrollment increases and in the face of great needs for correction of some situations—notably improvements in faculty salary," Harrington said.

Referring specifically to the tuition boosts, Harrington said, "We will try to get the fee increase reversed. He also said that resident fees should not exceed the traditional 20 per cent cost of education and non-resident fees should be proportional."

The subcommittee headed by Assemblyman Alexander Grant, R-Green Bay, has proposed reducing the UW's requested budget of $94.8 million by $11.3 million. However, $6.7 million of the reduction would be met by a proposed increase in tuition of $64 a year for resident students and $250 for non-residents.

Grant has charged Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds sought to incite students to not to protest the recommendations. Reynolds denied it, saying he was interested only in a strong university.

Joas, 17, route 1, Hilbert, appeared on a juvenile court waiver. He was assessed $5 costs and his driver's license was suspended for 60 days by Judge Sebor. All three youths pleaded guilty.

Joas and Kubicki were arrested by county police on Harrison Town roads March 15. Dollewol was arrested March 24 also on a Harrison Town road.

The committee recommendations praised the work of the subcommittee and also the proposals of the governor. He said they recognized the needs of the university.

Sees Possibility of Four-Year University At Green Bay Soon

Director of Extension Center Says Pressure Groups Useless

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The possibility of a four-year university in Green Bay with an enrollment of up to 5,000 students may be considered in the next year or two, Theodore Savides, Green Bay University Extension director, told the Press-Gazette Monday.

Savides stated, however, that at the present no useful purpose can be achieved through an organization of "pressure groups."

"When the appropriate time comes for consideration to be given to Green Bay as a possible location for a four-year college, both the administration and the University of Wisconsin will approach the problem in a statesmanlike manner."

The question of whether Green Bay would get a four-year college was raised by the Rev. Richard Mauthe, director of Newman Club at the Green Bay Center, after he is heading a drive to construct a $200,000 building.

Enrollment at the center was 590 last fall and is expected to pass the 700 mark this fall. The largest increase has come from students outside the Green Bay area with 273 now enrolled at the two-year center.

The present building was designed to handle 800 students with a maximum of 1,000. Savides said. The need for a four-year college to serve students from northern Wisconsin is rapidly becoming evident, he said.

Wednesday, April 3, 1963 Appleton Post-Crescent C5

During the next year or two, preliminary conferences with city and county officials and university administrators to explore the specific needs of northeastern Wisconsin will be held," the extension director said.

He added that there probably is enough adjoining property available to the present site to make it desirable as a location for a four-year college.

Father Mauthe in a talk at the Downtown Lions Club said that a four-year college in Green Bay was necessary and urged residents to begin supporting the proposal.

The Catholic priest said that he did not feel such a college would hurt the enrollment at St. Norbert. "In fact, it should help both schools," he said.

Plans to form a foundation which will eventually lead to the construction of a $200,000 Newman Center in Green Bay were disclosed Monday by the Rev. Richard Mauthe.

Father Mauthe, assistant pastor at St. Peter and Paul Church and director of the Green Bay Extension Newman Club, told the members of the Downtown Lions that a corporation to begin the Newman Foundation has been formed.

Mean Temperature in March Above Normal

For the first time since November, 1962, the monthly mean temperature went above normal in March, according to C. V. Ardis Jr., of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., Appleton's cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Eight unusually warm days at the end of the month produced a monthly mean of 31 degrees, 1.2 above normal, said Ardis.

He said the month's high, 69, one of four days with 60 degree readings, was recorded March 30. The low, zero, was recorded March 1.

Temperatures Moderate

Precipitation totaled 3.07 inches, the first above-normal level recorded since October, 1962. Normal precipitation for March is 1.77 inches. The winter's biggest snowstorm began March 5, and added 3.7 inches to 5 inches already on the ground.

Temperatures started to moderate by mid-month and began melting the snow cover, said Ardis. Hail fell during the season's first thunderstorm March 16, he said.

Except for scattered, well-shaded spots, the snow cover was melted by March 23, Ardis said. Total snowfall for the month was 15.8 inches, 6.1 inches above normal.

There were 1,055 heating degree days, compared to 1,107 in March, 1962, and the normal of 1,090. Total accumulated heating degree days since Sept. 1, 1962, were 7,217, compared to the normal of 6,860, he said.

The wind averaged 10.6 miles an hour, with south-southwest the prevailing direction. The maximum gust velocity, 37 miles an hour, was recorded March 20. There were six clear, 12 partly cloudy and 13 overcast days.

Police Warn of New Ordinance About Parking

KAUKAUNA — Harold V. Engerson, chief of police, issued a reminder Tuesday about a parking ordinance adopted recently by the common council which forbids parking on certain streets in the business district.

Parking is prohibited on streets found parked illegally, noted Engerson.

Highways 55 and 96 and County Trunks Z and J during these hours on a year around basis.

During daylight savings hours, parking on streets in the business areas is prohibited from 2 to 6 p.m. Purpose of the ordinance is to permit free flow of traffic on main arteries and cleaning streets in the business areas. Night officers have been instructed to tag cars for the city in years when other city offices are contested along with aldermanic races.

47.4 Per Cent Of Kaukauna Voters Report

KAUKAUNA — Less than 50 per cent of the voters went to the polls Tuesday as aldermanic races and school board elections were the only local questions on the ballot.

Of the total 4,527 registered voters, 2,146 went to the polls for a 47.4 percentage. Top voting was reported in the Fourth ward where 474 of a possible 536 persons went to the polls for a 57.3 per cent.

The Second ward had 501 of 1,036 eligible voters for a 48.3 per cent and the Third ward had 638 of a possible 1,338 voters out for a 47.7 per cent. The First ward had 468 of 1,047 going to the polls for 44.6 per cent and the Fifth ward where no aldermanic races was held had 65 of 280 eligible voters out for a 43 percent average.

The total is below the average for the city in years when other city offices are contested along with aldermanic races.

Over 16,000 Outagamie Ballots Cast

More than 16,000 Outagamie County residents went to the polls Tuesday. They helped pick a state supreme court justice, helped answer three state referendum questions and gave a vote of confidence to an unopposed sitting judge in the 10th Judicial Circuit.

In many cases they also voted for aldermen, county supervisors, town officers, school board candidates and on local referendum questions.

There were 16,216 votes cast in the supreme court race.

First locality to report its election returns was the village of Fear Creek. The village reported in at 7:13 p.m.

The dubious honor of being the last to report went to Town of Oneida. As a clerk was copying Oneida's results another was taking Town of Freedom's tally. As the items ticked-off the suspense mounted. Who would finish reporting first?

Oneida was reporting on the second of the three referendum questions as Freedom finished leaving Oneida in last place at 12:10 a.m.

3 New Faces On Appleton City Council

Ward, Louis M. Potash picked up 32.

Ald Donald Mueller 2207 S Randall St., a wire weaver at the Appleton Wire Works will be launching his fourth term as the 17th Ward council representative. In addition to Heinrich he bested Roy E. Schulte and Robert A. Spaulana.

Officially elected to his first two-year term was Ald Richard Huisman of 1002 N Superior St.

D Mueller

Huisman beat Mrs. Rose Schroeder of 224 E Washington St. 291 to 194.

Huisman was appointed in alderman by the common council last year to fill a vacancy. At the time Mrs. Schroeder also applied for the position.

Wm. F. Stump 2307 S Greenview St. outdistanced a field of three in making down his fourth term. Stumpf, a laboratory technician for the Kimberly Clark Corp. is president of the common council. His strongest opposition came from Robert N. Flibben, superintendent in the converting department at Riverside Paper Co. who picked up 220 votes.

The chairman of the council's finance committee, Ald Alvin F. Tews 1228 W. Loran St. had his first opposition since 1959 and won handily by 246 votes over John Frederick Willen 1113 W. Loran St. office manager for Appleton Concrete Products Co.

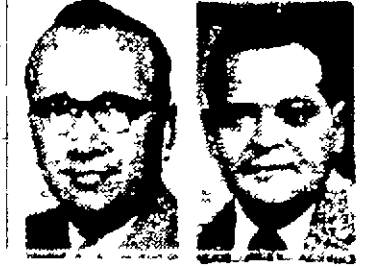

R Stumpf

Tews assigned to the Woodlands Division of Kimberly Clark will be starting his sixth consecutive term. In the 1961 election he was the lone alderman without opposition.

Ald Kenneth Loos (3rd), chairman of the council's street sanitation committee was elected to his third term by downing Douglas A. Lemons 297 to 158. Loos, who lives at 806 W. Winnebago St., is a welding foreman at the Valley Iron Works.

Aldermen receive an annual salary of $1,200. The trio of new council members will be given their oaths of office by City Clerk Elden Broehm within 10 days.

The vote canvass will be conducted by the council at its regular meeting Wednesday night. The first formal meeting of the reorganized council will be held April 17.

Menasha Woman Hurt Seriously in Car-Truck Crash

MENASHA—A truck collision at First and Manitowish streets this morning in Menasha sent one person to Theda Clark Hospital with possible serious injuries and left damages estimated at more than $800.

Mrs. Arthur Westenberg, 825 First St. Menasha, was rushed to Theda Clark Hospital emergency room by Brown Ambulance service after suffering possible chest injuries when the car she was driving collided with a truck loaded with chlorine chemicals driven by Jack D. Lemney 20 West Allis.

Hospital attendants could not be reached for a report on Mrs. Westenberg's condition. However, officials indicated she was still in the emergency room at noon nearly two hours after the accident which occurred at 10 a.m.

The Westenberg car smashed into the gas tank on the left side of the truck, owned by Hydrite Chemical Co. and wedged several feet under the truck body.

Chief Kuehl said there is no auxiliary power setup at the headquarters station but indicated it would be included in the plans for the new station to be erected this year at Atlantic and Drew streets.

A large share of the production operation at the Post-Cities plant was shut down until power service was restored. The power company received few calls from customers probably because the trouble was corrected so quickly.

No Disruption

A spokesman for the Wisconsin Telephone Co. disclosed the firm automatically pressed into use its emergency power equipment so there was no disruption of service.

While the firms on the north side of College Avenue were without power, business establishments on the other side of the street were not affected. The power loss posed no major

Town of Neenah to Continue Summer Recreation Program

NEENAH — Residents of the town of Neenah Tuesday night unanimously agreed at the town meeting to continue the recreation program at two schools for another year at a continued cost of $11,000.

The program, held at Lakeview and Fuller schools in 1962, had an estimated 2,478 youngsters attending. The figure was a decrease from 1961 when 3,200 youngsters took part.

Residents also agreed to officially change the name of a section of old highway 41 from Cecil Street north to North Street to Green Bay Road. The section has gone by the name for some time but has not been official.

Members of the town board requested for street lights in certain town areas were turned down by board members.

Board Chairman Laurel Healey reminded residents that it was an accepted fact that the board decides on street lighting.

The board has decided this is as far as we will go. Healey said in reference to adding more lights to the town.

Healey asked for opinions from residents present but received no recommendations.

Amendment Allows Possible Budget Cut

run the federal government for three weeks and if it confiscated all income over $25,000 it would only gain enough to run the government for three days, he said.

Defense costs are given as the reason for increased federal spending but domestic expenditures in the last 10 years has increased by 143 per cent, he said, and it is this that is largely preventing people from helping themselves.

Before 1913 the state and local governments had two-thirds of all taxes collected and the average citizen paid about 9 per cent of his income in taxes, Heibstiehl said.

Today state, local and federal taxes consume one-third of all earnings and the federal government dissipates 70 per cent of this he pointed out.

This calamitous increase in federal taxation through the federal income tax has deprived our states of their legal sovereignty and great opportunity to save for his old age.

The federal government has been spending money for the sheer sake of spending money, he said and debt since 1894 and in 26 of the last 30 years.

He made four points on federal expenditures:

1. There must be some standard for controlling government functions and expenditures.
2. Current levels of spending are not based on the cost of existing business type activities.
3. Current levels of spending should be based on plans designed to wreck the economy.

Voting in the Town of Grand Chute gave Schneider 376, Schulte 289, Mrs. Munro 257, Mrs. Heil 250, Willecke 212, Hensel 203 and Dr. Brahe 180.

Grand Chute Votes

All areas in the Town of Grand Chute now are attached to Appleton. Only a small area of the town is attached to Appleton.

The election was the first in which most voters in the attached district are parts of the towns of Harrison, Buchanan and Menasha. Only a small area of the town is attached to Appleton.

Seven Candidates

They voted in a year which offered an unusually wide selection in the school board race with seven candidates competing for the three posts. It was the first time that two women had run for the school board members since 1901.

Balance Budget

The proposed Liberty Amendment would make states sovereign in their own homes at the same time restore three-year terms without pay to school board members.

He said at the time of his election to the school board he had not believed in the union of states in Wisconsin.

The federal government has been spending money for the sheer sake of spending money, he said and debt since 1894 and in 26 of the last 30 years.

In a test of important features, 74.5% found Valiant "best all-around value."

3600 drivers in 18 cities gave the popular compacts a thorough test

Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute supervised the entire program at Valiant's request. They purchased the cars—comparable models, each with exactly the same equipment. They set up the test courses, asked the questions, certified the results.

People were asked to test-drive two compacts. Some drove Corvair and Valiant. Some drove Falcon and Valiant. Some wanted to try Rambler or Chevy II. Trained interviewers fired questions all the way. Which of these cars do you prefer for acceleration? Ride? Steering? Styling? Finally, Based on your actual driving test, which car would you select as the best all-around value?

A Good Bill on Housing Bias

The Governor's Commission on Human Rights, in our opinion, has come up with a good bill in the explosive field of racial discrimination in housing. In previous years attempts by the commission and other groups to push legislation in this field have failed, principally because—in the eyes of the Legislature and, presumably, a large section of the public—they asked for too much too soon. The previous proposals would have given the commission or some other government agency strong powers to prosecute home owners, real estate agents and others accused of practicing racial discrimination in the selling or renting of homes and apartments. The commission's proposal this year is considerably milder and, we think, should receive support from a broad cross section of the public. It would declare "open occupancy" to be the policy of this state, and provide civil remedies for those who believe they have been the victims of discrimination. Thus the normal processes of our civil courts would be used to implement the policy, rather than criminal sanctions imposed by quasi-judicial agencies.

The Prange Parking Ramp

The announcement by the H. C. Prange Company that it will build a multi-level parking structure adjacent to its Appleton store in connection with an expansion of its sales floor space is another major shot in the arm for the future of the city's downtown retail shopping area. The immediate addition of 466 off-street parking spaces in downtown Appleton is important in itself. Coming right on the heels of completion of the city's West Ramp and the letting of construction contracts on a new East Ramp, it puts Appleton in the vanguard of cities of this size all over the country in really doing something about the parking problem for the present and the immediate future.

The O.A.S. Grows Up

One of the noteworthy changes that has come about since Castro took over in Cuba has been the change in attitude toward the United States by many—perhaps even most—Latin American countries. If we believe that collective action is the answer, in this decade at least, to the threat of nuclear war, the new spirit in the Organization of American States and its relation to the United States is heartening.

The O.A.S. was once a haggling, impotent group, with most of its members apparently resentful even of United States membership. It emphasized non-intervention at every turn and particularly anything that could be construed as Yanqui intervention. As an organization to promote justice and peace it looked as impotent as an Arctic penguin watchers association.

But first in regards to Trujillo of the Dominican Republic and then, slowly and reluctantly and finally emphatically as far as Cuba was concerned, the O.A.S. began to show sense. At President Kennedy's Costa Rica conference it appeared that he had to do some talking to slow down the Central American interest in actively moving in and kicking Castro out.

Abram Chayes, legal advisor for the State Department and a Harvard professor, writes in a current issue of Foreign Affairs that the collective blockade of Cuba which the O.A.S. announced last fall is no longer a sign that a state of war necessarily exists. This is a point of view which President Kennedy seemed to accept last October but of late has ignored. The O.A.S. may change his mind again.

Chayes says that the Declarations of Paris in 1856 and London in 1909 listed a declaration of war as a preliminary to instituting a blockade. But Chayes says this was in an effort to set rules of war and to Certainly Wisconsin must face up to the fact that failure to make "open occupancy" public policy will lead—in fact already has led—to the creation of ghettos in which Negroes and other so-called minority peoples must live whether they want to or not, with all the social evils and bitter resentments that result from such a condition. Those of us who proudly uphold our system of "free enterprise" must realize that it will mean little to a man who is told he cannot buy or rent the home of his choice because he and his family were born with the wrong color of skin.

Yet we must also realize that declaration of such a policy by the state is only the merest beginning at solving the problem. The real solution will come from the private sector, from the people themselves, and from the real estate industry. A good example of action by the latter is the recent action of the Chicago Real Estate Board in admitting several Negro realtors to membership, and where really groups and publications have been openly discussing the problem of minority housing, and expressing increasing determination to do something about it.

Provision of this amount of off-street parking will enable the city to go ahead with other major measures to relieve traffic and parking congestion downtown. And we must remember this is the ultimate purpose of off-street parking—to shift parking from streets where it interferes with traffic off those streets.

But even more important is the fact that the Prange Company once more has demonstrated most concretely the faith it has in the future of the retail business in downtown Appleton. This expression will encourage city officials, other businessmen and business organizations and the community itself to step up the modernization of the core area of the city.

be sure that the combatants accepted the obligations of war. Today, he writes, "the overriding object of international law is not to regulate the conduct of war, but to keep and defend the peace." A blockade can be looked at today as an instrument of that aim since the alternative may be nuclear war.

Chayes also seeks to show that the blockade last fall voted by the O.A.S. was not a denial of the primary rights of the United Nations to keep the peace. His arguments here depend considerably upon a lawyer's technique of using lack of action as a sign of a positive move. The Security Council, obviously hampered by the veto power, has been superceded by both the General Assembly and the Secretary General in some areas. But the U.N. Charter specifically says that regional organizations shall use no "enforcement action" without "authorization" by the Security Council. Chayes argues that a narrow interpretation of "enforcement action" wouldn't include a blockade since in this case no shots were fired. And the failure of the Security Council to protest can be judged as authorization!

All of this may be legal tomfoolery to rationalize the firm measures we took last fall. But if so they could be used in the same way today.

"The quarantine, seen in this framework, is a significant addition to the developing body of postwar experience with collective responsibility and collective action to preserve the peace," writes Chayes. In short, times change and so do means of waging war or of keeping the peace. In this decade the use of regional organizations has become important. The Organization of American States has grown up in a century when its maturity to face subversion and infiltration may be very essential to peace and freedom in the Western Hemisphere.

Trolling Regulations

Gov. Reynolds was right when he demanded that the State Conservation Commission continue to review the trolling issue in the state sports fisheries code, and come up with a more sensible and consistent rule on the question.

The governor made the comment as he signed an extension of the trolling order which he said has produced a geographical "hodgepodge."

Looking Backward

Loyal Union League Praised

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for March 28, 1963.

Union Leagues, these combinations of loyal men, have been instituted to counteract the baneful influence of Copperheadism in the Union, and the covert machinations of the Golden Circle (a secret society working against the Administration).

The leagues are rapidly increasing in numbers and power both North and South. They assuredly have a righteous cause, and under God, cannot but succeed. Let every man of known loyalty prove his allegiance therein.

Rhode Island and Connecticut are to hold their Congressional and State elections on Wednesday next. They will be without excuse if they fail on that day to recollect their miscreant traitors who have dared to ally themselves with the Copperheads of other States, who so recently (no doubt) through the pre-arrangement of the Knights of the Golden Circle if not with Jeff Davis himself) set up a simultaneous hiss in union for the dismemberment of New England! Let us see if any New England State is base enough to assist in "kicking New England out" of the Union!

Little League's Main Purpose Not Ability but Sportsmanship

Editor, Post-Crescent:

As a past manager of young boys in Little League, I should like to express my personal feelings and experiences.

Spring is rapidly approaching and boys' thoughts turn naturally to baseball. They start to collect their bats and balls and get the feel of their gloves. Each and every one is thinking about his part on a team. Will I pitch? Will I catch? Will I be a sensation? But most of all he is concerned about making the team.

The men who coach these boys are, also, dreaming and thinking about a team. They need boys who, first of all, have a great desire to play. Of course, all the desire in the world does not alone make a ball player. He must have the ability. He must be able to listen and to follow instructions.

Every coach wants a winning team, but in Little League as well as other organized sports, even more important than winning is building character and sportsmanship. To be able to lose well is an asset to any boy.

Parents are always anxious to see their boy play. As, also, a parent, I have at times disagreed with the coach at hand. This is a natural human reaction. The coaches understand the anxiety of parents, but do some parents understand the problems of the coaches?

The boys are seldom a problem themselves, but much too often the problem is the parent. Most parents are wonderful and love to watch these boys play. The small minority that continually disagree with umpires, coaches, and the other team are a nuisance, but most of all, the one they usually hurt is their own child.

Everyone agrees that baseball games should be fun and a little roughness does no harm. But we should all remember that how we speak and act leaves an impression on the young minds. The managers are there to speak for the rights of their team. Too often the parents tend to interfere and this only makes matters worse.

In summing up, I should like to say that Little League is like a kindergarten for boys learning more than just baseball. Five per cent of parents lose the true value of this and take away the game from the players and the coaches, who are not building future professional baseball players, but young men.

Farm Wife Wants to Know Definition of Sportsman

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Right now there is a great deal of talk about sports. The Sportsmen are having a big party and everyone who is an avid hunter or fisherman will go. What I would like to know is: What is a "Sportsman"?

I know fishermen who are on the lake every spare minute summer or winter. In fact, when the fish are running, they bring in their limits twice a day.

A few cars go past our farm with shotguns blazing out of all windows. They particularly like to do this after sundown when the pheasant and partridge begin to come out from cover. Today I thought they were shooting at crow but it was nothing so innocent. They had separated a pair of ducks from a flock heading north, and they probably got them. The ducks were tired and confused when I saw them, and they continued being shot at for as far as I could see. These same hunters go bow and arrow hunting, but they down their game with a 22 bullet before the arrow goes into the vital wound.

These men live and breathe hunting. But are they "Sportsmen"? I would sure like to know.

Proposal for Closed Primary in State Is Being Discussed Again

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The issue of the closed primary election has been returned to public discussion by the action of the second district Republican voluntary organization which has adopted a resolution suggesting such an enactment to the legislature now in session.

It is not yet possible to determine whether this is a sign of a concerted effort among Republicans, or merely an impulsive and independent proposal by a local party group. There has been no sign in the legislature or in the state party organization of any intention to sponsor such legislation this year. Moreover, there would probably be only a remote chance for its success if the attempt was made.

Yet the question is academically interesting, embracing as it does one of the most curious aspects of Wisconsin politics, and one that has been deeply frustrating to the conservatives.

WHAT IT IS

The closed primary — and if any effort is made to attain it the Republican publicists would be well-advised to find a more graceful way of describing it — would attempt to confine party nominating elections to the members or the sympathizers of the respective parties, through a requirement of pre-primary registration according to party preference.

Thus Democrats would not be eligible to vote in Republican nomination contests, and vice versa, except as they had changed their party registration before the primary election.

The issue is mostly important to Republicans, who year after year are required to make their calculations and key their campaigns to the presumption that Democrats can and usually do ignore their own primary day ballots in order to enter the Republican column to assist in the selection of Republican candidates.

That habitual one-way migration is a reflection of the historical voting behavior of the state and its basically Republican orientation. For generations, the real primary election fights were in the Republican column. Even today, with the Democrats raised to adulthood and competitive status, their primary contests of any significance are rare. Last year Gaylord Nelson and John Reynolds had no rivals for their nominations. Tens of thousands of Democrats were thereupon free to vote in the Republican column, and quite obviously did.

From the Republican regulars' viewpoint, this gives the Democrats an unfair advantage. They can vote for liberal nominations in the Republican column — and the Dane County voting record here is a complete demonstration of the tendency — and then return to their own party in the final accounting.

DIFFICULTY

The closed primary idea is not new or radical, except in Wisconsin terms. It is common in other states of the country. Chances are that if Wisconsin had had a typical political development, there would now be a restricted primary election law here.

That Wisconsin has an open primary, so-called, is directly attributable to the rule of the LaFollettes were earlier in the century when this was a one party state as truly as are those of the Deep South today. The struggle for power then was in the Republican primary. The LaFollette faction of the party was always able to control the factional nomination of its candidates, and wanted the primary open in order to get the support of Democrats and others in the official nomination elections.

With a Democratic governor in the executive office able to veto legislation, there is no prospect for changing the primary election law today.

But even if the Republicans returned to complete control of the state government machinery in 1964, such a proposition would be a difficult one to enact. It would have the sound of restricting the rights of the electorate, whatever intellectual and logical arguments might be made. Republicans will probably have to assume that their primary will be open to the invasion of non-Republicans for the indefinite future.

Strictly Personal

Under State's Rights Who Watches States?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

While I was visiting in the East recently, I spent a day with a friend of mine who had just returned from a two-day trip to his state capital. He is a business man, and was involved in some proposed legislation for his group.

"This trip did one thing for me," he remarked ruefully at lunch. "It made me think twice about the slogan of 'state's rights' that sounds so appealing to those of us who are alarmed about federal power."

"What do you mean by that?" I asked.

"It was the first time I'd had a glimpse of a statehouse in action," he explained. "It was appalling and depressing — and I'm sure that my state isn't any different, or any worse, than most."

"Depressing in what way?" I wanted to know.

"In every way," he said. "In the calibre of men we have sent to the state legislature. In the atmosphere of intrigue and deals and moral shabbiness. In the cheapness and seediness of the whole political situation there, in both parties."

"Didn't you find any positive aspects?" I inquired.

"Of course," he said, "there are a few men there of character and intelligence; I don't mean a blanket indictment. But the general level was so low, the self-serving was so obvious, the ignorance and greed and provincialism so overpowering, that I left before I really should have."

"And that experience soured you on state's rights?" I asked.

"It certainly made me ponder the question. After all, government isn't an abstraction. It's run by men — and the men in Washington, whichever party is in power, are of a distinctly higher calibre. Some of the bills proposed, and actually got to the point of passage, are incredible. Let me tell you about a few of them."

I listened to his doleful tale, and was able to reciprocate by telling him that my glorious state of Illinois had recently approved a bill that would outlaw flying the United Nations flag on public buildings in the state. A harmless piece of mischief, but highly indicative of the sort of bigoted stupidity that passes for "patriotism" in so many state legislatures.

It may be true that the states must guard against federal encroachments of their rights; but then the equally large question raises itself: who is then to guard us against the inanities, if not worse, of our statehouse politicians?

3 Per Cent Sales Tax Bill Will be Offered by GOP

Plan Envisions $110 Million New Revenue for Biennium

MADISON (AP)—The Legislature's Republican leadership doesn't intend to tax them this year, but they plan to introduce next week a three per cent general sales tax bill as an alternate to Gov. John W. Reynolds' proposal for heavier taxes on incomes, corporations and banks.

The Republican proposal apparently will be designed to take advantage of the growth factor in Wisconsin's present tax structure and will add about $110 million in new revenue for the coming biennium.

The plan calls for exemption on food and drugs from the three per cent sales levy.

Explorer 17 to Send Vital Data On Atmosphere

Placed Into Orbit From Delta Rocket; Transmits Signals

BY HOWARD B. NEDIC

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Explorer 17 satellite zipped around the globe today and within two days its sensitive instruments were expected to collect more information about the earth's atmosphere than all the knowledge gained through the centuries.

The 410-pound ball of instruments vaulted skyward Tuesday night atop a three-stage Delta rocket and settled into an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 150 to 570 miles high. The launching success was the 16th straight for the reliable Delta.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported good quality signals were being received from the flying laboratory as it circled the world every 96 minutes.

Monitors Roads
A number of ground stations were equipped to monitor the satellite. Officials said the vehicle would be commanded to send five-minute bursts of information at carefully selected times during the anticipated 10-to-90-day useful lifetime. They planned to activate the sphere 10 to 20 times a day to obtain maximum knowledge of

Higher Debt Limit Backed By Voters; Beilfuss Elected

Has Large Margin in Court Race

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Circuit Judge Bruce Beilfuss, who has spent all but two years of his distinguished law career in public service, won election to Wisconsin's Supreme Court Tuesday by an overwhelming margin over Harry E. Larsen, Superior Court judge.

The 48-year-old Neillville jurist, perhaps Wisconsin's most respected trial judge and a nationally known champion of more liberal rules for news coverage of court

Beilfuss Has 7,000 Vote Lead in Region

Circuit Judge Bruce F. Beilfuss of Neillville, bested Atty. Henry E. Larsen of Superior by more than 7,000 votes in the Outagamie-Winnebago-Calumet-Waupaca county region.

Beilfuss polled 24,354 votes to Larsen's 17,294 in carrying three counties. However, in Waupaca County, where there is a heavy Scandinavian concentration, Larsen was top vote getter by a 3,260 to 2,997 margin.

The county totals Outagamie—Beilfuss 10,484; Larsen 5,732; Winnebago—Beilfuss 10,141; Larsen 7,216; Calumet—Beilfuss 2,055; Larsen 1,046; Waupaca—Larsen 3,260; Beilfuss 2,997.

Daley Elected Third Time as Chicago's Mayor

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Richard J. Daley, who would like to be known as the first new leader rather than as the 11th of the old big city bosses, has won his third consecutive four-year term.

He defeated Republican Benjamin S. Adamowski 678,147 to 539,876—a margin of 138,271 in Tuesday's mayoral election.

Cloudless skies and 82-degree temperature brought out 73.4 per cent of the city's 1,718,760 eligible voters, one of the biggest turnouts in 20 years.

Daley also holds one of the most powerful posts in Democratic politics—chairman of the Cook County Democratic Committee. He has been chairman since 1951.

DENPASAR, Bali (AP)—The smoke cloud pouring from Agung volcano has been increasing and Bali Information Director Anak Agung says another eruption is feared in the next two or three days.

The cloud and the general situation of the volcano are very similar to the days before March 17, he said. Agung's eruption on that date killed nearly 1,500 persons and drove more than 70,000 from their homes.

Kennedy Expected To Name Board on Railroad Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected today to sidetrack for 60 days the threat of a nationwide railroad strike by naming a blue ribbon emergency board to try to settle the dispute over cutting out thousands of jobs.

The signals indicating an onrush of emergency in the long-raging war between the railroads and the men who man the trains flashed red Tuesday after these swift developments.

1. A federal judge in Chicago dissolved an injunction freeing the railroads to announce manpower reductions they have been urging for four years.

2. The rail lines then served notice they would put the new work rules—designed to eliminate featherbedding—into effect Monday.

3. With the five operating unions already having warned they would call a strike if the rules were put into effect the National (Railway) Mediation Service informed the White House that an emergency

Wyoming Hit By Snow Storm

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—A spring storm which whipped into a blizzard dumped up to a foot of snow in eastern Wyoming last night and early today.

Roads north of Moorcroft in the northeast were closed by blowing snow and U.S. highway 30 over Sherman Hill between Cheyenne and Laramie was closed for several hours.

Cars and trucks became stalled on drifts on the hill and had to be pulled free. The Wyoming game warden still had a ban on trailer traffic over the summit today.

The thermometer dipped to 4 degrees at Evanston and was 8 at Big Piney.

Influential Congressman Tells Why He Wants Foreign Aid Cuts

BY STANLEY MEISER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., said today he finally feels vindicated in his long battle against foreign aid—but indicated in words not in action. So he still will wield his ax when President Kennedy's $4.5 billion foreign aid bill comes his way.

For nine years the ax of this dapper, portly 62-year-old businessman from Monroe, La., has been a major obstacle for any foreign aid bill trying to work its way through Capitol Hill. No bill has emerged unscathed.

Influential Position
Passman derives his power from his position as chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations. He derives his distaste for foreign aid from a simple philosophy.

"Head to a bar tonight and watch some people drinking cocktails," he said in an interview. "Then watch the drama that unfolds each time the waiter brings the check. Everyone grabs for it."

Forecast Says Colder Tonight

80-Degree Reading Tuesday Snaps Two Appleton Records

It was hot in Appleton Tuesday so hot that a number of Fox Valley weather records were broken by 15 minutes.

The Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. Appleton's cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau recorded a high of 80, breaking the record for the date and officially becoming the earliest day in the year to have an 80-degree reading.

However, the U.S. Weather Bureau, Green Bay, said a cold snap will set in tonight. The bureau predicts a low tonight of 29 and a high Thursday of 46. The forecast said a warming trend should begin setting in again Thursday afternoon.

The old record for April 2 was set in 1946 and tied in 1950 according to the power company. The previous record for the earliest day in the year to have an 80-degree reading was set April 17, 1958, when 80 was reached the power company said.

The U.S. Weather Bureau, Green Bay, reported one day on record with an earlier 80-degree reading 81 on March 29, 1910, (the power company's official Appleton records start in 1927).

Proposals on Raising Pay Of Judges and Change in Redistricting Turned Down

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin voters spoke out as usual in unmistakable if not entirely explicable fashion Tuesday on three proposals to amend the State Constitution, approving only one.

As they did in 1961, they rejected a measure that would have permitted the Legislature to increase the salaries of Supreme Court justices and judges of other state courts during their terms of office.

The vote on 3-146 of 3-124 propositions was Yes 206,169 No 310,330.

They approved raising the debt limits for local governments with particular benefits for big government school systems. The vote Yes 276,836 No 219,192.

And they defeated soundly a

Referendum Results For 4-County Area

Voters in the region comprising Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Waupaca counties followed the state trend—with some reluctance—on the state wide referendum questions.

Collectively they voted 23,426 to 11,914 against the revision in judges' salaries. The individual county totals:

	Yes	No
Outagamie	4,111	8,419
Winnebago	5,118	9,643
Calumet	877	1,905
Waupaca	1,388	3,939

The debt limit question received 17,940 affirmative votes and 16,249 negative ballots. Waupaca and Calumet counties bucked the trend by voting against the change. The county totals:

	Yes	No
Outagamie	6,297	5,627
Winnebago	7,403	6,643
Calumet	1,299	1,336
Waupaca	2,441	2,655

Redistricting received 17,727 affirmative votes in the region while picking up 15,443 in favor. Winnebago was the only county in the region which went yes for the proposal by a slim 7,103 to 7,963.

	Yes	No
Outagamie	5,376	6,183
Winnebago	7,103	7,065
Calumet	1,047	1,500
Waupaca	1,916	2,973

Wisconsin voters approved the debt limit question but rejected the others.

proposal to grant the Legislature until its second session after a federal census to reapportion political districts. The vote Yes 220,669 No 261,886.

Backed By Legislature
Whipping of the redistricting proposal by the electorate was the big surprise since the measure had rate 14 bipartisan support in the Legislature—only five votes were cast against it on its trip through both houses.

Although there was substantial criticism particularly from metropolitan Democratic strongholds that the amendment would only excuse further stalling in granting big cities their due representation, legislative members of available in time for the next session to do an adequate job. Rejection of the amendment may be counted as a victory for Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds who termed it "only an effort for more delay."

Full Valuation Base
The debt limit amendment deals with a constitutional provision complicated enough to require amending on four previous occasions since 1961. In addition to

SEC Issuing Stock Market Probe Report

Today's Section Will Deal With New York Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission makes public today the first part of its report on the most extensive investigation of the stock market since Congress passed the securities laws of the early '30s. While publication of the first installment will relieve much of the suspense that has grown in the securities industry since last year, a substantial portion of the detailed study will be delayed by the very volume of the job.

The section dealing with the New York Stock Exchange is reported to be among those due for publication in the final installment some weeks hence.

5 Phases of Probe
Opening chapters will deal with five phases of the investigation and cover 1,600 pages. They are understood to delve into such technical matters as hot issues or stocks that soar or price shortly after eaching the market; regulation of salesmen and deviant sales techniques and more complete disclosure of the resources behind stocks traded over the counter off the exchanges.

Terms of the 1961 law calling for the study placed almost no limit on how far it should extend into the protection afforded investors or the activities of market professionals.

Milton H. Cohen, a Chicago lawyer and former SEC staff officer, directed the study which began in January 1962 and lasted into this year. Cohen headed the staff that previously investigated the American Stock Exchange.

Moscow and Peking Move Cautiously Toward Showdown

MOSCOW (AP)—Cautious maneuvering toward a face-to-face showdown meeting between communism's two giants shifted the bill back to Peking today.

Premier Khrushchev declined an invitation to visit Red China and instead asked Mao Tse-tung to see him in Moscow.

As an alternative Khrushchev suggested that the Chinese Communist leader first send representatives for high-level talks to clear the air over the deep Moscow-Peking rift.

There was no immediate reaction from Peking. A New China News Agency broadcast said only that the Soviet ambassador to Peking had delivered a letter from Khrushchev to Premier Chou En-lai and other Chinese party leaders.

Record High Tuesday; Cold Snap Wednesday

Wisconsin—Partial clearing and colder tonight. Partly cloudy and colder Thursday. Low tonight 29. High Thursday, 46. Light southwesterly winds.

Marion Man Found Dead On Little Wolf

Coroner Rules Fred W. Missal Had Heart Attack

WAUPACA — An 88-year-old rural Marion man suffered a fatal heart attack Tuesday afternoon when he was bailing water out of a boat on the Little Wolf River, according to Sheriff Loran Frazier.

Fred W. Missal, who was making his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dahlke, route 1, Marion, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Sam Salan, county coroner, who said death was due to a coronary.

Found in Boat

Missal's body was found shortly after 5 p. m. Tuesday half in and half out of the boat. His head and shoulders were submerged in the water and his feet and legs were in the boat, which had drifted about 20 feet from shore where it became entangled in some brush.

Dahlke told Sheriff Frazier, undersheriff William Mork, Dr. Salan and George Meating, county policeman, his father-in-law went to bail out the boat about 2 p. m. When Dahlke returned to his home from work he said he went looking for Missal.

Marion Chief of Police Jack Below was called to the scene. Chief Below notified the sheriff's office.

Missal was taken to a Marion funeral home.

Construction Between DePere, Kaukauna Set for Next 2 Years

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The reconstruction of U.S. Highway 41 between Kaukauna and De Pere will be completed during the next two years and the new road will be open for traffic in 1965, the state highway department has assured Gov. John W. Reynolds.

Chairman Harvey Grasse of the department gave the assurance when the governor, in reviewing the state highway department budget at a hearing here, reminded highway officials that he travels the stretch frequently as he returns to his home in Green Bay.

"I'll have to be governor a while longer, won't I?" the governor asked, as he contrasted the old segment of road north of Kaukauna with the reconstruction of the main artery in the lower Fox River Valley.

Green Bay Projects

Reynolds and Grasse carried on a jocular exchange about highway problems in Green Bay and vicinity, as the highway chairman tried to persuade the governor that the state's road expenditure needs are far greater than available money resources.

"We could spend at least $20,000,000 around Green Bay alone," said Grasse at one point, "and that is about equal to the entire free fund allocation for state highway construction in any one year."

Reynolds noted that the City of Green Bay needs either a fourth downtown bridge or replacement of one of the existing three bridges.

Nods Agreement

Grasse nodded agreement, but he said a Green Bay urban traffic study now nearing completion may provide the answer to the state's decision on the construction of a new span.

Then he added, "The city of Sturgeon Bay needs a new bridge even more."

Grasse crosses the crowded Sturgeon Bay bridge each time he returns to his home here in northern Door County. Several years ago, he was required, as state highway chief, to arrange for emergency crossing of the busy city traffic of Green Bay each time he returns to his Door County home.

"There should be an east-west expressway in Green Bay," he said, and the governor smiled in apparent approval of the thought.

One Alderman Upset in Vote

CLINTONVILLE — A newcomer to city politics, Donald E. Sawall, upset incumbent Fourth Ward Ald. Rexford Michaelis in the only city contest Tuesday.

Sawall polled 118 votes to Michaelis' 77. Michaelis had just completed his first two-year term.

Other officers elected without opposition were: Evan Hedrick, First Ward, 94 votes; Arthur Kaplingst, Second Ward, 92 votes; Clarence Smith, Third Ward, 44 votes; and Edward Mitchell, Fifth Ward, 95 votes.

Supervisors elected without opposition are Alfred E. Johnson, First Ward, Leonard Petersen, Third Ward, and Johnny Hansen, Fourth Ward, and Harold Dushak, Fifth Ward.

Charles Hoffmann Voted as Manawa Mayor for 9th Year

MANAWA — Voters Tuesday returned Mayor Charles Hoffmann to his ninth year of office with 125 votes in his unopposed bid for reelection.

Elected in each of the wards were Oscar Sellin, First Ward, third term, 28 votes; Oscar Hoffmann, Second Ward, second term, 31 votes; Lowell Feathers, Third Ward, first term, 42 votes, and George Jensen, Fourth Ward, ninth year, 24 votes.

Elmer Bonikowske, Third Ward incumbent, declined nomination this year after serving three terms.

A total of 140 persons cast votes.

Hilbert Voters Set Record

341 Turn Out to Decide Slate of Village Contests

HILBERT — Attracted by a full slate of local contests, voters turned out in record numbers for a spring election and gave incumbent Village President Orville Manz an 83 vote victory over Ray Krautkramer.

The 341 votes cast is a village record, Mrs. Arthur Pruess, clerk-treasurer, said.

Manz defeated Krautkramer 212 to 124 in the contest for the village's top post. The victory gives Manz his fifth term as president. Krautkramer was a veteran member of the village board of trustees. His term expires this year.

Incumbent trustees re-elected were Merjyn Plato, 221, and Clarence Hennauer, 213 votes. Replacing Krautkramer on the board will be Arno Albers, a village businessman who polled 191 votes. These three received the three highest vote totals of the six candidates vying for village trustee. Other candidates and their vote totals were: Math Baer, 234, Alfred Fochs, 121, Clinton Schultz, 85.

Unopposed incumbent village officers were Supv. Herman Gieve and assessor Howard Siegfalt. Their vote totals were 292 and 273, respectively.

Leonard Lisbeth Again President Of Bear Creek

BEAR CREEK — Leonard Lisbeth won his third term as village president unopposed Tuesday. He polled 48 votes.

Joseph McConegan won his third term on the Outagamie County board, running unopposed and taking 63 votes. Leon Bechard, polled 59 votes to lead candidates for trustee positions. Leonard Tedlock and Donald Hartleber each received 55 votes, and fill the other two trustee posts.

Chilton Electors Defeat Controversial Reassessment

349-155 Vote Kills Program Argued in Council Five Years

CHILTON — The city's electors turned thumbs down on a reassessment proposal by an overwhelming 349-155 margin in a referendum Tuesday.

In the only other local contest on the ballot, incumbent First Ward Ald. Emil Jodar edged Robert Larson 156-43 to maintain his seat on the council.

The referendum to decide the fate of a plan to have a professional reappraisal of all real and personal property in the city was repeatedly deadlocked on the issue. Reassessment has been argued by the council for about five years.

$9,000 Cost

Aldermen favoring reassessment claimed it was necessary to correct inequities on the tax roll. Opponents agreed inequities existed but felt there are less expensive methods of correcting them. Cost of the work of reassessment was estimated at about $9,000.

Despite the referendum's controversial aspects, only 514 voters turned out. The record spring vote exceeds the 900 mark City Clerk Arthur Pollard said.

Sixth Term

First Ward voters returned Emil Jodar to the council for his sixth full term. He has served a total of 11 years on the council. Despite the closeness of the race in which Jodar defeated Larson by three votes, there are no indications of a recount demand. Unopposed incumbents include Emil Schaff, Second Ward, 135; George Winkler, Third Ward, 85; and Arno Weller, Fourth Ward, 85. Incumbent Mayor Elmer Daun polled 402 votes.

Richard W. Timm, science teacher at Black Creek, has been accepted as a participant in the summer science institute of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville, Missouri. This institute is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

2 Officials Defeated at Fremont

FREMONT — Two village officials were defeated in their bids for re-election in Tuesday's vote. Assessor Leonard Rowen was defeated by Eugene Redentman 58 to 67. Ronald Abbot polled 77 votes to defeat incumbent trustee Harold Olson, who had 55 votes. Other trustees are Arthur Hahn, 66, and Russell Kapitzke, 70. Unsuccessful were Allan Schafer, 50 votes, and Marilyn Schafer, 34 votes.

Re-elected without opposition were Frank Smith, 107 votes, Miss Helena Abraham, clerk, 116 votes, and Edwin Allie, treasurer, 115 votes.

Bernard Lemeron, trustee who moved from the village, did not seek re-election. Vernon Oelke polled 59 votes and Edwin Rumpo 58 to win a one-year term filling out the vacant seat.

A total of 126 votes were cast in the village.

Apathy of Co-op Members Cited At Chilton Meeting

UW Economist Discusses Image of Movement, Calls for Action Now

CHILTON — One of the principal weaknesses of the cooperative movement is apathy of a majority of members, University of Wisconsin agricultural economist, Prof. M. A. Schaars, told a group of cooperative leaders at a meeting here Tuesday.

The meeting, sponsored by the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Cooperatives, was one of a series of five being held in the state by the touring group which represents all phases of the cooperative organizations.

"There is no strong sense of loyalty to the cooperatives on the part of their members," Schaars added. To make a co-op business successful, good leadership is necessary but the key still lies with responsible members.

Recruiting Apathy

This apathy reflects chiefly on the recruiting end of the organization, the featured speaker said. Members take little interest in participating in membership drives, leaving much of the responsibility with the board of directors.

Despite their lack of support, Schaars said, most members feel that cooperatives are worthwhile and covet their presence in the communities.

He felt that a solution to the lethargy lies in education of members. They should become informed on local operations and be made to feel that they have a voice in the operation.

Consumer Assurance

Speaking on the ideally considered image of a cooperative, Schaars said it should be a place where the consumer can save money in a long run. The co-ops can't outpace competition on every transaction, according to Schaars, but over a long haul it should be economically advantageous to do business with one.

To the consumer, the co-op should mean assurance of dependable merchandise, fair dealing, impartial treatment, a voice in the operation of the business, and a place to secure services for which he can afford to pay.

Of marketing co-ops, the image is charged to added assurance of a market outlet and top prices. Though warning them not to ignore long range planning, Schaars advised co-ops heads to

2 Members Elected to School Board

NEW LONDON — Two referendum totaling $2.9 million for construction of a high school and swimming pool were defeated by a landslide vote in Tuesday's election. The referendum for a $2.7 million school was defeated 1,901 to 751. The swimming pool referendum for $200,000 was turned down 2,251 to 329.

Two of the four candidates bidding for two positions on the board of education also won by overwhelming majorities. The two successful candidates were Kenneth Black, with 2,267 votes, and Gordon Reidenbach, with 1,859 votes. The other two candidates, Edward Macklin, polled 656 votes and incumbent Gordon Meiklejohn received 559 votes. Meiklejohn was serving the unexpired term of J. Peter Hamel. The other incumbent, Delbert Penn, did not seek re-election. Both of the new members will take their seats July 22.

The $2.7 million bond issue was defeated by a 3 to 1 margin, with the city of New London. The swimming pool referendum was turned down by nearly a 5 to 1 vote.

Voting ran the heaviest in the Fourth Ward where the school issue received 177 yes and 444 no votes. The vote of the pool was 113 yes and 463 no.

In the other wards of the city the vote was First Ward, 108 yes and 369 no on the school; Second Ward, 237 yes and 237 no on the pool; Third Ward, 23 yes and 73 no for the school and 18 yes and 76 no on the pool; Fourth Ward, 59 yes, 265 no for the school and 32 yes and 267 no; Fifth Ward 35 yes and 329 no on the school and 18 yes and 143 no for the swimming pool.

Opposed Issue

Voters in the 13 townships of the school district also opposed both issues except in the Town of Fremont where three votes were cast for the high school and none against it. However, the pool was opposed by a one to two vote. Deer Creek also was in favor of the school by a four to two vote. The pool issue drew three votes for each side.

Having both bond issues defeated came as no surprise because public opinion prior to the election was against bonding the district to such an extent. At a public information meeting Friday night, opposition to the high school was evident to nearly 250 persons who attended the meeting. Citizens did express the opinion a new school is needed.

Had the building project been approved as presented, the district would have had the new high school, shops, a central cafeteria to service schools of the district, a field house and swimming pool.

Some school board members indicated work would start immediately to shave costs on the construction project. A special referendum will be presented to the public soon for approval, board members indicated.

Injuries Fatal To Man Involved In Crash March 19

John W. Gray, 45, 3619 N. 75th St., Milwaukee, became Outagamie County's seventh traffic fatality shortly before 7 a. m. Tuesday when he died of injuries received in a two-car accident March 19.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Gray died of internal injuries. He has been in a hospital since the accident.

Gray was driver of a car which was heading east on U.S. 10 near Dale. His car hit a slippery spot and collided with a car being driven west by Kendall G. Struher, Ypsilanti, Mich. Gray was pinned in the wreckage of his car.

Unopposed incumbent candidates were George Ecker, clerk-treasurer, and Allison Westenberg, assessor. Each received 178 votes.

On Calumet Board

George Hostettler Gets 2 Stockbridge Offices

STOCKBRIDGE — George Hostettler retained both village offices for which he was the incumbent candidate in Tuesday's election.

Hostettler defeated Sylvester "Sam" Pennings for village president by a 150 to 76 vote margin. His margin over Pennings for the separate office of supervisor was 135 to 68. The twin victories will give Hostettler his second term on the Calumet County Board and his sixth as head of the village board.

One incumbent fell victim to the heated race for the three village trustee offices. He was Art Westenberg. Westenberg's 88 votes were fourth best in the six-man race. The top three are declared elected.

Top vote getters among the candidates was incumbent Alex Gooser who polled 124 votes. Gooser is the only incumbent of the three whose terms expire this year who is returning to the board. Math Mehn Jr., declined renomination. Replacing Moehn and Westenberg are Norbert Gilles and Marvin Gerhartz, both farmers living within the village. Gilles, formerly a trustee, was defeated in the 1961 election. Votes received by other trustee candidates included 85 for John R. Leach and 84 for Norbert Schroyen.

Unopposed incumbent candidates were George Ecker, clerk-treasurer, and Allison Westenberg, assessor. Each received 178 votes.

Mott Wins Seymour's Only Contested Race

Incumbent Bests Schleicher, 134-98; Justice Post Confused

SEYMOUR — Mayor Mott Incumbent Second Ward alderman downed Wenzel Schleicher by a 134 to 98 vote in the city's only contested race Tuesday.

Four persons received write-in votes for justice of the peace — an office that City Clerk Mrs. Josephine Marmocha thought had been abolished and set on the ballot at the last minute. The office was stripped of its duties when the post of municipal justice of the peace was created by the state legislature in 1961.

Eril Eick, incumbent First Ward alderman, ran unopposed and was elected with 96 votes. Ray Wilson received two write-in votes for the post.

No Opposition Both incumbent supervisors were re-elected without opposition. First Ward supervisor Ivan Dunbar received 93 votes and Second Ward supervisor Marvin Babbitt received 183 votes.

Voting was light in the First Ward but heavier than usual in the Second Ward because of the contested race for alderman. A total of 101 votes was cast in the First Ward and 224 in the Second Ward.

No one ran for the post of justice of the peace. Mrs. Marmocha discovered that it had not been formally abolished although proposals to do so are before the legislature and placed it on the ballot too late for anyone to run for the office.

Opinion Needed Harvey Hart who presently is municipal justice of the peace

Plan Bicycle Law Change

New London Council Expected to Amend Fees for License

NEW LONDON — An amendment to the ordinance governing licenses on bicycles in the city is expected to be passed at Thursday night's meeting of the city council.

The amendment would change the ordinance so bicycles need be licensed only once every two years instead of once a year; the ordinance now reads. The fee for the license also will change. The charge will be 75 cents for two years. The fee is 50 cents for one year.

The council also is expected to present an ordinance limiting the number of beer licenses within the city. The ordinance would provide only one license be issued for every 3,000 population or the larger half of 3,000 population. The ordinance also stipulates that the present license holders and their successors will be entitled to hold their licenses. The city has two beer licenses issued.

the credit refund provision of the 1961 sales tax bill.

Details Not Given

The present state budget is $312 million. Reynolds asked $157.3 million to bring the 1963-65 budget up to $669.3 million, plus $22 million to cover a deficit and $8 million for new programs.

While details have not been revealed, the GOP plan apparently will count on the present tax structure netting about $40 million in the next biennium. Starting with $40 million, the general sales tax would add about $110 to $115 million for a total of $650 to $655 million.

It follows that the Republicans then would have to cut between $10 and $20 million from Reynolds' proposed $669.3 million budget to attain a balance.

A way to cut $15 million from the budget has been pointed out by a Joint Finance subcommittee headed by Assemblyman Alexander Grant, R-Green Bay.

Grant has proposed a two per cent cut in proposed University of Wisconsin and state college faculty salaries and an increase in student fees for both residents and out-of-state residents.

Unless Republicans run into opposition from their own members, the GOP plan probably will be scheduled for public hearing the week of April 15. Reynolds' tax proposals will be heard April 10.

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Israel's Parliament has been ordered to break off its Passover recess and convene in special session Sunday to deal with the problem of German scientists working for the United Arab Republic's arms industry.

The session was called Tuesday night at the demand of three opposition parties—the right-wing Herut, the Liberals and the left wing Mapam. Spokesmen said they plan to move a motion of no confidence in Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's government.

the atmosphere under varying conditions and at different altitudes.

Eight measuring instruments encased in the satellite's stainless steel shell were to record the amount of helium, oxygen and nitrogen gases, neutral particles and electron and ion temperatures and densities. Comparison of the data would help scientists construct a fairly complete chart of the density, composition, temperatures and pressures of the atmosphere at a time when solar activity has a minimum influence.

Nelson Spencer, project manager, said the space agency hopes to launch similar satellites later under different atmospheric conditions for comparison with what is learned by Explorer 17.

Officials reported that scientists for centuries puzzled over the makeup of the atmosphere and only in recent years—when rockets allowed them to make direct high-altitude measurements—have they obtained some concrete answers.

office was as an Assembly candidate 25 years ago, presented the electorate with a clearly outlined set of divergent views on judicial affairs.

Larsen's Position

Larsen supported in a series of speeches — a number of them broadcast—Canon 35 of the American Bar Association's compilation of judicial ethics, which prohibits television or radio broadcasting from a court in session, and also the taking of pictures by news photographers.

Beilfuss not only has opened trials under his jurisdiction to news media when he said such coverage was in the public interest, but has been among those active in seeking modification of the ABA canon.

For instance, he gave photographers entry to the spectacular Madison trial of three Chicago hoodlums for the murder of a Sauk County patrolman last year. Several widely acclaimed photos resulted. And, in a rare move,

Debt Limit Boost Backed

both parties supported the view that the breakdown in population shifts under each census was not clarifying the language of the Constitution, the new section will:

Base all debt limits on full property valuation instead of assessed valuation, thus broadening the base by an average of some 75 per cent.

Place a limit of 5 per cent of full value on all but integrated school districts, which would retain a 10 per cent limit, and city school systems would have their bonding limit increased from 8 to 10 per cent of full value. City systems also would be able to include the full value of non-city territory which is a part of the school system.

Thus, where the combined city-school debt limit is 8 per cent, it would be raised to 15 per cent—5 per cent for the city, and 10 per cent for the integrated school system.

Now Limited

Still firmly in place is the Constitutional provision that the Legislature shall not grant extra compensation after services are contracted for, "nor shall the compensation of any public officer be increased or diminished during his term of office."

The defeated amendment, which had little organized opposition, would have exempted judges specifically from the list.

The only exemption ever made was in 1956, when voters approved an amendment to permit increases in the benefits of retired teachers.

Burton, Wife Agree To Legal Separation

NEW YORK (AP)—British actor Richard Burton—who has been playing Marc Antony to Elizabeth Taylor's Cleopatra on and off the screen—and his blonde wife, Sybil, have agreed to a legal separation.

The Burtons' separation agreement was announced here Tuesday night by the couple's attorney, Aaron Frosch, who said: "Divorce has not been considered or discussed. All financial and other arrangements have been concluded."

Frosch of New York, accompanied Mrs. Burton when she flew in from London Tuesday with her two children, Katherine and Jessica. The trip ostensibly was for an Easter vacation with her father-in-law, Philip Burton.

Burton, 37, stayed behind with Miss Taylor, 31.

SEC Tells of 'Grave Abuses' In Stock Sales

yet been adopted by the commission itself. With the comment that "grave abuses do occur," he added that the commission will undertake a continuing study of problems uncovered.

Despite abuses, Cary continued, "the picture presented is not one of pervasive fraudulent activity such as developed at Senate hearings which produced securities laws in the early 30s."

SEC provided Congress with the report today enough material to occupy Senate and House subcommittees for the remainder of this session. And there's more to come.

Terms of 5th graf 112 ta22. The first installment included five chapters. Seven other chapters delayed by the enormity of the investigation which ran all last year and into this will be submitted within six weeks or so.

Market Break. These will deal with the New York Stock Exchange and other trading floors' last May's market break, mutual funds and over-the-counter quotations.

Sen Harrison A. Williams D-N.J. already has announced the Senate Securities Subcommittee's heads will conduct hearings on the SEC findings.

Milton H. Cohen, Chicago law yer and former SEC officer, who directed the investigation said the very fact the market has been under study has led to quite remarkable fence mending within the industry.

Self-Policing. Cohen called for more vigorous self-policing noting what he termed the existing gap between the industry's stated goal of high standards and the existing conditions in the market place.

He said mere lip service will not be sufficient to assure investors the securities market is beyond reproach.

The report wrapped into five separate volumes and accompanying statements weighing 12 pounds pointed to specific cases of skulduggery and named names — some of which had come out in public hearings last year.

Cary transmitting the documents to Congress said the commission still wants the exchange and such groups as the National Association of Securities Dealers to regulate the market as extensively as possible. But SEC will need tougher rules, he said, and some details can be cured only by new laws.

Salesmen Standards. To raise the standards of salesmen who sell stocks to rich and poor alike, SEC recommended lifting one of the most incongruous restrictions on its own authority. The commission now can bar salesmen only on grounds they have previously violated securities rules. It asked Congress to enable it to keep out characters convicted within the last 10 years of other crimes those involving theft, fraud, embezzlement, defalcation or criminal breach of trust.

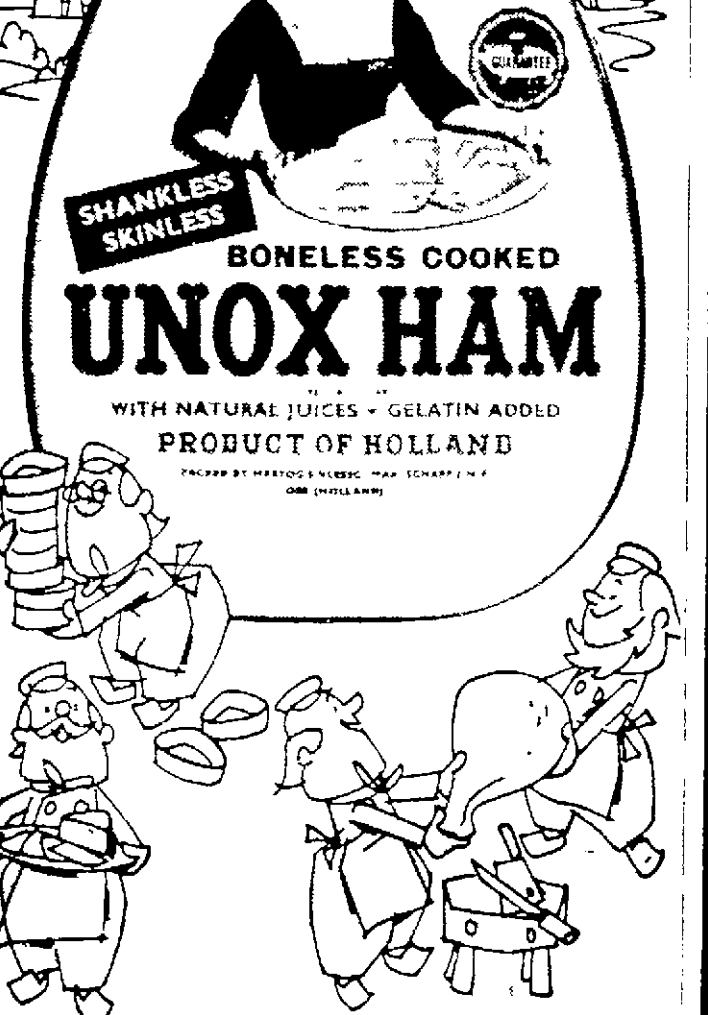

The commission also suggested that all firms and individuals in the securities business be subject to one of the self-regulatory groups enabling the commission to act against individuals without moving against their firms, as is now necessary and allowing it to impose punishment short of outright revocation of a broker's registration.

Devious Sales Techniques. As for devious sales techniques, the report found boiler room operations which subjected unwitting investors to hard sell tactics with little background on what they were buying have not vanished from the industry. Even among respectable firms, Cary said, serious lapses have occurred.
